NYC, Pennsylvania Reeling Under Strikes

By SAMUEL MAULL
Associated Press Writer

A wildcat strike in response to sweeping budget slashes has left New York City streets littered with 30,000 tons of garbage. In Pennsylvania, a walkout by state employees has virtually halted most day-to-day functions of state government.

Republican state legislators in Albany refused on Tuesday to give New York Mayor Abraham D. Beame new taxing powers to raise money for city coffers. He was forced to order the firing of 19,000 municipal employees, among them nearly 3,000 of the city's 10,600 sanitationmen.

Vowing that New York would become "Stink City," Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association president John J. DeLury warned that if any of his men were laid off, the rest would refuse to work. The union followed through on the threat, staging a wildcat strike. DeLury said he had lost control of his men.

Today the city had enough garbage to construct two piles the height and width of both towers of the 110-story World Trade Center.

In poorer neighborhoods the refuse grew in fetid heaps and residents worried about the potential health hazard of garbage rotting under a sweltering July sun. Others were concerned that youths would set it afire, posing yet another danger.

Sanitation Commissioner Robert Groh said that because of the temperature highs in the 80s, the garbage would decompose more quickly than normal. "We might have to call out the (National) Guard as early as noon Thursday" to collect the garbage, he said.

More problems augured for New York when heads of the Uniformed Firefighters Association and the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association said they would consider joining the sanitationmen's walkout. More than 5,000 policemen, one-sixth of the force, and 1,650 firemen received pink slips in the budget-induced firings.

As New York City workers joined the unemployed, sporadic outbreaks of violence were reported. Three white officers, apparently angered by their dismissals, were charged with third degree assault after they were accused of beating a black youth in Harlem. Police officers were accused of threatening motorists when the policemen took their demonstration onto the Brooklyn Bridge to block traffic.

A dispute over pay increases precipitated the massive strike by Pennsylvania's state employees. Lt. Gov. Ernest P. Kline estimated 50,000 employees were away from work Tuesday. Union sources said the actual figure was closer to 80,000.

The administration of Gov. Milton J. Shapp offered 3.5 per cent raises. Most of the unions, including the giant American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), want 10 per cent. The walkout by some estimates has left many of the state's offices effectively closed.

In cities such as Philadelphia,

Harrisburg, Erie and Pittsburgh, there were cases of one person manning an entire state office.

Activities involving welfare assistance, unemployment, food stamps, and parks were halted. There was also the threat of a strike by state liquor store clerks whose contract expired Monday with those of other state employees.

The primary tactic of Shapp's administration has been to use the courts to force as many people back to work as possible.

Of eight lawsuits filed by the state Tuesday, one resulted in an injunction against striking prison guards and guards at the Farview state hospital for the criminally insane. Another res-

CAUGHT UP IN PROTEST: A pair of New York City police officers sent to an approach on the Manhattan side of the Brooklyn Bridge are carried away by dismissed police officers Tuesday during a protest that

Michigan Prisons Bulge With Felons

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The sharpest increase ever recorded in Michigan prison population is placing a strain on some facilities and forcing the reopening of several others, according to state officials.

Perry Johnson, director of the state Department of Corrections, said Tuesday state prison capacity will be reached in a matter of days.

More felons are now in state prisons and community corrections centers than have ever been in the past 15 years, Johnson said.

More felony convictions and a slight shift away from probation might be the reason, he explained.

The present rate is 200 or more new inmates a month.

The working capacity is 9,500, only 71 spaces above the actual load of 9,429 in June.

"We are definitely experiencing some disruption and delay in services for inmates," said Charles Egeler, warden of the southern Michigan prison at Jackson, known as the world's largest walled prison.

"To head off problems, the staff is working to keep on top of the problems and to keep lines of communication open," Egeler said.

The number of felons under corrections department jurisdiction has jumped by 1,086 from last January to June, Johnson said.

"It is the most sudden and sharp increase ever recorded," he said.

Besides those in state prisons, the department is responsible for another 409 people in community corrections centers and resident homes, Johnson said. The combined number was 9,838 people in June, 38 less than the 1960 record.

To ease the population crunch, Johnson said Camp Pugsley — a minimum security facility north of Cadillac — and one section of the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia have been reopened. The department had planned on phasing the 100-year-old Ionia institution out of existence, he said.

The department now assumes the total prison population may reach 12,000 people by 1977, Johnson said. The agency is looking to possible use of prefabricated and modular prisoner housing, he said.

Expanded furloughs and more probation are also being explored, Johnson said.

"It is unlikely that any new prisons could be built fast enough to house the state's burgeoning prison population," he said.

Winning Number

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The winning number in the Michigan Daily Lottery contest for Wednesday, July 2, is eight-five-five (855), the state Lottery Bureau said today.

Slaying Trial 'Star' Recants Testimony

The star prosecution witness in an insurance case murder trial took the stand Tuesday in Berrien Circuit court and said his previous testimony implicating the defendant was false.

The repudiation by Terry Young Langford stunned many court observers, including Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert U. McDowell. At the start of the trial yesterday, McDowell had told the jury the prosecution had made a deal with Langford in exchange for "truthful" testimony against defendant Lorenzo Cross.

Cross, 25, of 1905 Union street, Benton township, is accused of the murder of Audrey Bridgewater Walker, 26, and conspiring with Langford to commit the murder.

Langford had testified during preliminary examination in District court that he had been hired by Cross to kill Mrs. Walker as part of an insurance scheme. Other testimony said

Cross, a life insurance agent, sold Mrs. Walker three insurance policies with triple indemnity clauses with Langford as beneficiary.

The body of Mrs. Walker, of 239 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor, was found Feb. 19 in a ditch off Yore avenue, Sodus township, riddled with shotgun wounds.

Langford, 23, of Benton Harbor, is also accused of murdering Mrs. Walker, but McDowell told the jury that in exchange for Langford's "truthful" testimony the prosecutor's office would let him plead guilty to second degree murder, and recommend a sentence of 20 years in prison.

Langford had not been expected to testify for another two or three days, according to court sources, but he took the stand at 3:56 p.m., about two hours after the first witness had been called.

"Would you state your name, sir?" McDowell asked.

"Terry Langford," came the reply. "I plead the Fifth Amendment."

"Where do you reside at the present time?" McDowell asked.

"I take the Fifth Amendment," Langford responded.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

Changing The American Guard At The UN

In a euphoria of peace and brotherhood unmatched in modern times, the American public 30 years ago gave overwhelming support to FDR's version of the old League of Nations as a guarantor of international stability.

Ever the pragmatist, Roosevelt envisioned the United Nations would be guided and controlled by what he considered the major powers, namely, the U.S., Russia, China, England and France. Mentally he reserved the control mechanism to the first three and in a pinch he foresaw the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. to be joint wagonmasters.

Roosevelt pursued that power decision for two reasons: (1) the practicality of the winners of a world conflict fashioning a durable foundation upon the rubble from the war; and (2) the future admission of lesser national lights of unknown political leaning called for initial strong guidance from the founding countries.

Barely a handful of Americans, all in private life, expressed reservations about the UN. They felt an underlying suspicion about the Russians and the one man-one vote aspect of UN deliberations evoked the prospect of multitudinous small countries telling the U.S. what it may or may not do.

Until the late '50s those dark thoughts seemed to be unjustified. Though the Kremlin consistently thwarted the U.S. at every opportunity, our country did enjoy a leadership consensus among the UN membership.

Since then Washington and Moscow have formulated detente as a possible unilateral solution to world peace and the Third World countries have dominated the debate in the UN.

Styling the discussions as debates is elevating the sow's ear up to a silken purse. Better than 90 per cent of the rhetoric is an accusation from the Third World bloc, the Afro-Arab lands primarily, against imperialist insensitivity to human rights.

Most of that drive is directed toward Uncle Sam, varied occasionally by potshots at Israel and South Africa. Throughout that smokescreen Washington has chosen to treat the verbiage as a legitimate expression of opinion and its ambassadors have spent most of their in pontifical replace to the double talk.

That it has availed our country nothing has been obvious for a long time. It has, though, prevented the UN from flying apart. As John Scali, our outgoing ambassador, sees it, "Our language, our posture, can enhance or set back the prospects of compromise."

Scali dropped the remark as a hint to Daniel Patrick Moynihan who took over the ambassadorial role on July 1st.

Moynihan is one of the more exuberant spirits to brighten the Washington scene.

The Harvard historian has served under Democratic and Republican Presidents with equal zest and when measured against the fetters hobbling our diplomatic gambits, with equal skill.

Moynihan is recently returned from the American embassy at New Delhi and before he left he let it be known in unmistakable language that Mme. Indira Ghandi's idea of unrestricted foreign aid, particularly from the U.S., free from all rein is hardly his concept of neighbors helping one another.

The fear in our State Department is that Moynihan when given the first dose of human rights by the Third World bloc may inquire as to when some of its members intend to eliminate slavery, upgrade their women folk and a few thoughts standard to the western concept of human dignity.

Appealing as is this yen for plain talk, Moynihan for all his zest, realizes the folly of rocking the boat merely to see how big a ripple it creates in the water.

He saved his powder for Mme. Ghandi until the moment appeared propitious to shot a few holes in her ideological balloon and until he was reasonably certain some of her countrymen were leveling their sights on her flight path.

He understands the Third World leadership's thinking differs little from Mme. Ghandi's. It is a handout mentality, of looking to anyone, Russia or the U.S., for economic assistance at no involvement to the recipient.

The Soviets have swung with that punch much more adroitly than the U.S. Americans are divided over the numerical majority in the UN. Some think we have been suckered long enough. Others believe that once extended, sweet charity never should be withdrawn, and under no circumstances ever qualified. The Russians are adept beyond description in that measuring process.

Moynihan appeals to us as a person well qualified to put across the message that the Third World bloc can make or break the UN and themselves as well.

The Right To Know Isn't Hard To Lose

One of the elementary differences between free and totalitarian societies is the ability of the public to know what its officials are up to. It has been called "freedom of information."

"right to know" and other terms, but it has more to it than the voluntary openness of the ruling bureaucracy.

Inherent in the process is the right of an individual citizen or the press to insist that the burden of proof in holding back public information rests with the responsible official. That is why there can be no "Watergate" or similar scandals in the world of communism or other forms of totalitarianism. The public in those lands has no rights other than those granted by the ruling hierarchy, and its word is final.

All of which is by way of leading up to the codification of federal criminal law which is before committees of both houses of Congress. Complicating the codification process are a number of revisions in the various proposals under consideration, some of which come dangerously close to removing the public's right to legitimate public information.

Senate Bill 1, for instance, contains a provision which would make it a felony to print "a record or other document owned by, or under the care, custody or control of, the United States."

It is not difficult to see how that all-inclusive phrase could become a haven for censorship of any and all government papers if it is accepted by Congress. The right to know has been won by many hard-fought battles over the years, but it could be nullified by one act of legislative revisionism.

URGING GIRLS TO COMPETE

Editor, Please print this letter to make every girl in our area who has some musical and dramatic talent aware of the wonderful and enriching experience which could await her in Muskegon.

The Miss Michigan Pageant, along with scholarships, provides the opportunity for growth, excitement, new and lasting friendships, delightful chaperones, judges with the ability to make you feel at ease, and a chance to live and work with people you have never met — to watch one week's group effort come to a delightful conclusion.

This opportunity is provided in our area by Miss Van Buren County, Inc. and Miss Southwestern Michigan, Inc. Seek out their next contests. It will be rewarding.

Thanks to the Miss Van Buren

County committee for their flowers, letters, and words of encouragement and praise. It really made me feel I had my committee behind me.

A very special thanks to Decker Olds Cadillac in South Haven who provided a limousine for my arrival in Muskegon. You can feel no less than a queen when riding in such elegance. They put an extra layer of icing on my cake.

An extra thanks to Mary Uirath. Words can't express my appreciation for all her help, encouragement, and special care.

HUNTINGTON'S DISEASE COVERAGE APPRECIATED

Editor, Thank you so very much for the excellent coverage on Huntington's Disease in the June 27 issue. I would also like to express my appreciation to your reporter, Anita Smith, for her interest and fine cooperation in writing the story. Our Tag Day in the Twin Cities was very successful and we wish to thank the many people who contributed and who expressed their best wishes for our project. By a great majority, the people were very friendly and kind. We know that eventually this disease will be controlled and then conquered, and so we thank you and the many people who are now a part of the solution.

THEY WON'T GO BACK TO WARREN DUNES

Editor, I read with concern the story of the Boy Scouts in Warren Dunes State Park story in the Monday, June 25 edition of your paper.

They claim to have had a raw deal at the park, well we came under the same red tape and harassment.

My father and I have come to Michigan for three years now to stay at Warren Dunes from our home in Harrison City, Pa., and the past two stays have been long and enjoyable ones.

On our way to the park this time, we bought one of the local newspapers (The Herald-Palladium) to read and found your story on the front page. Our general thoughts were that there was a fixup.

Upon arrival, we were greeted with the $5 fee for a vehicle pass for our truck camper.

In addition for the $5 fee we had to pay $16 for four nights camping. This isn't too bad, but the fouled up way we had to go to get registered was ridiculous. Then, our fumbling forest ranger friend told us we had to pay an additional $5 fee for the right to use our Honda 70 cc

Do You REMEMBER?

—10 Years Ago— Construction of a $620,000 truck plaza could start Tuesday if the State Highway Department grants permission for a driveway off of the I-94 interchange at Sawyer. The truck stop would include a grocery store, barber shop, truck service garage, and a motel for truckers.

—25 Years Ago— The resolute St. Joseph Auster placed the Michigan-Indiana Baseball League's first half toga under lock and key Friday night as they corralled the Fort Wayne Kekiongas, 5-1, at Edgewater park for their sixteenth victory in 20 loop starts and their eighth in a row. With their brilliant 16-4 ledger, the fence busting charges of Manager Carl Kennedy, could lose every one of their remaining four first half engagements and still lay claim to the title and a berth for the league's championship playoff at season's end with the second half champion.

—25 Years Ago— Bangor — Lawrence LeDuke, well known fruit grower of Lawrence township, has just been granted a patent on a new type of spraying apparatus which it is believed will be a boon to vineyard owners. He was granted the patent on June 14, and has already had flattering offers for the purchase of it. The device is a new type of spraying outfit fitted with flexible fingers which permits all portions of the vines and leaves to be reached by the spray material.

A program of speeches, band concerts, and an evening display of fireworks will mark St. Joseph's observance of Independence Day Saturday, according to the program announced by L.E. Merchant today.

—75 Years Ago— Rev. H.L. Porter, of Buchanan, who was selected as temporary chairman of the Republican county convention at St. Joseph on the 18th, has declined the honor on account of other engagements and Mr. John Glavin, of New Buffalo, will preside.

The Katie Putnam company will appear in the beautiful pastoral drama, "Fanchon the Cricket," at the Bell opera house, Benton Harbor, Wednesday night, July 4. The popularity of the play, the recognized ability of the players and the holiday occasion will all contribute to crowd the hall.

Of Cabbage And Unelected Kings

WASHINGTON — Former senator Eugene McCarthy suggests the White House rose garden be plowed over and cabbage be planted. Presidents tend to swell in importance surrounded by elegance, he explains, while men seen among cabbage plants might be viewed some what more honestly. McCarthy does not single out Gerald Ford in this thesis, but he might. Humble Jerry, the accidental leader is being seen, largely because of the awe of his office, less and less for what he is: humble Jerry, the accidental leader.

To some degree, surely, Ford himself is responsible for the burial of his origins. He has performed his appointed Presidential duties with unsurprising integrity but altogether refreshing intelligence. He has learned quickly, he has chosen capable if not brilliant associates.

Yet good performance in this case is being stretched on many fronts into something more than that. Ford never talks of his appointed status anymore. Aides are increasingly acting as if the administration has a constituency, even a mandate. And where once the President's close friends openly discussed the morality of an unelected president using the powers of incumbency in a campaign for that office, the subject is now dismissed as a topic of relevancy by fact that "Mr. Ford can't help being in that pickle."

The White House, as Gene McCarthy says again, is "a little nation." Nobody since Caesar has been so elaborately elevated as have U.S. presidents. McCarthy says the office employs 400 staff members, 100 domestic servants and other workers, and a transportation fleet of 32 automobiles, 16 jet planes and 16 helicopters. The Army provides an estimated 65 chauffeurs for the President's disposal, the Navy has 90 people on duty in the White House mess — and 14 high-ranking military men do such chores for Mr. Ford as looking up speech facts and delivering mimeograph notes.

Wrapped in this pomp, no doubt, Krazy Kat could be king. Yet Ford has had more than inherited circumstance in his corner. The press too, oddly, has contributed to the embellishment of his person and his status. Stung by the criticism that it turned all knives on Richard Nixon when the latter stumbled, the media has handled Ford with deference and timidity at best, investigative neglect at worst.

Interviewers have not laid a glove on the President, must press conferences have been thoroughly obedient. When Ford said recently he would not release to the public any information on alleged CIA assassinations it was not once asked if this was gross arrogance. And to date only a few have wondered aloud how an appointed caretaker can veto with impunity the legislative efforts of 535 duly elected officials.

Seldom do commentators recall for readers that the man is a constitutional aberration, that the weight of his office is not supported by votes, and that his service should thus be continuously viewed with judicious suspicion.

This is not to suggest rubbing it in to President Ford. But forgetting the whys of his office serves neither him nor the public well. If we can get used to having an unelected President, or if he can get used to being one, the easier it will be to have one again.

NLRB Celebrates 40th Birthday

WASHINGTON — The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), one of the least sexy politically but also one of the most effective of all government agencies, is 40 years old this week.

Unlike most of its sister alphabet agencies born of the turmoil of the Depression and the New Deal, the NLRB has never been embarrassed by a major scandal. It has not been among the quasi-independent agencies to come under recent fire for climbing into bed with the industries and interests it is supposed to regulate. It has not suffered from obvious political hacks and too-rapid turnover. And it has usually kept pace with its case load, although that is becoming an increasing problem.

The NLRB could easily have been a flop, since its mission is to settle volatile squabbles between management and unions, both of which tend to be aggressive and view their arguments as life-or-death matters. But the board has managed to maintain a reputation on both sides for moderation and fairness.

The board is not perfect, of course, and some labor experts complain that it has been far too timid in facing new problems. In years in which its majority has been appointed by a Republican President, it has had a slightly more business-oriented cast than in years under a Democratic President. But experts agree that it has on the whole built a remarkably competent record of even-handed administration of the nation's evolving Labor Relations law.

For the past two months, its chairman has been Betty Southard Murphy, a nationally-recognized labor lawyer, who happens to be the first woman to hold a decision-making post in the agency above Civil Service Grade 16. A Republican, she was a finalist for the post of general counsel two years ago, but President Nixon's staff vetoed her on the grounds that no female could possibly be qualified for such a responsibility.

The board has only recently moved into the field of racial discrimination in management-labor relations. It announced earlier this month that it would consider in its employee election procedures contentions that a union should be denied certification as a collective bargaining representative because of alleged discriminatory practices, and if such practices were found, deny the certification. It has not, however, issued a general rule — which would speed up the process considerably — but decided to settle each case individually; and it is not yet on record firmly as opposed to sexual as well as racial discrimination by employers or unions.

In its role as middleman the past 40 years, the NLRB has processed more than 840,000 cases of all types. Union membership has grown sixfold, and there are now more than 100,000 collective bargaining relationships, covering some 23 million workers. "In great measure," Murphy says, "the promotion of industrial democracy under law has been a national triumph."

"It is difficult to imagine what this country would be like had there been no National Labor Relations Act and no NLRB," she says.

Although it makes few public waves, the NLRB's role continues to grow steadily. It now handles approximately 50,000 cases every year. The Labor Act was expanded last year to include private health care institutions, adding another million and a half employees to NLRB jurisdiction.

Bills are currently pending in Congress to enlarge the statute even further to include state, county and city employees and agricultural laborers, although previous efforts to improve their status have failed. Happy Birthday, NLRB.

LAKESHORE LIBERTY DAYS BEGIN FRIDAY

Parade, Dances, Fireworks
On Tap For 2-Day Event

EARN'S DEGREE: Chris Buckleitner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Buckleitner, 1894 Brown School road, St. Joseph, recently was graduated with a bachelor's degree from Western Michigan university. Buckleitner, 22, joined the Peace Corps, and departed for Ponape Island in the Caroline chain of the South Pacific, to serve as a magistrate's assistance. He was graduated from St. Joseph high school and majored in government administration at WMU.

Lakeshore area's Liberty Days celebration will begin Friday with a kiddies parade and end Saturday night with an adult street dance.

The committee, headed by Mrs. Charles Baker, began over six months ago to plan the event, which is oriented for a 1976 bicentennial celebration. Plans are to make it an annual community affair if public response is favorable.

Sponsoring the various activities for the celebration are Lincoln township Friends of the Library, Lakeshore Art guild, Stepping Stones Child Study club, Psi Tota sorority, Rotarians, Lakeshore Faculty Wives, Lakeshore Future Farmers of America, Baroda fire department and the many residents who have contributed financially to Liberty Days.

Theme for the parade is "Storyland." Mrs. Kenneth Rodda and Mrs. William Wroblewski are co-chairmen.

Parade categories are bicycles, pets, non-automotive floats and costumes. First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each category and will be worn during the parade.

Entrants are to assemble at the school for judging at 9:30 a.m. First place winners in each category and special category, originality, will be awarded $5 gift certificates and large red, white and blue ribbons.

Parade grand marshals will be Ed Rauh and Mrs. Rosetta Meyers, librarians at Lincoln township library. Judging will be done by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mallett, Mr. and Mrs. James Maier and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gain.

Parade route will be down St. Joseph avenue, from Stevensville school to John Beers road. Children, pets and floats will disband at the village parking lot behind Grau's supermarket. Street dances for teens and adults have been scheduled for Friday and Saturday, in the Stevensville village parking lot behind Grau's supermarket.

The youth dance, to be held from 7 to 11 p.m. Friday is open to all Lakeshore area teens, 13 through 17 years of age. It will be chaperoned by adults, according to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Deanas, co-chairmen. Tickets at $1.50 each, will be sold at the front gate only. Rainedate will be Wednesday, July 9. Music will be provided by the Atlantic City Steel Pier, a contemporary brass rock band, featuring a variety of instruments.

The adult dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday and is open to Lakeshore area residents, 18 years and older. Mrs. Robert Gain, dance chairman, said nearby residents should walk or ride bicycles to the dance, because of the lack of parking space.

Ticket co-chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hummelberg and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Vanderstelt. Tickets at $1 each may be purchased in advance from T.J. Rose, Ltd., Stevensville or at the gate the night of the dance. The Knights of Kalamazoo will furnish the music, offering several styles including ballads, dixie, rock, waltz and folk. Rainedate for the adult dance will be Saturday, July 12.

All cars are to be moved from the parking lot by 6:30 on both nights.

Schedule of events, according to Mrs. John C. Florin, publicity chairman, follow:

FRIDAY

11 a.m. — Kiddies parade, on St. Joseph avenue, beginning at Stevensville elementary school and ending at John Beers road.

1 p.m. — Tennis playoffs, township courts; concession stands, arts and craft show, country store, hay rides, children's and adult's games and kite flying contest.

1 to 5 p.m. — Puppet show, every half hour.

1:30 p.m. — Sing-a-lings.

2:30 p.m. — Southwestern Gymnastics show.

3 to 5 p.m. — Children's pet show and remote control airplane show.

3:30 p.m. — Lakeshore summer theater group presentation.

4:30 p.m. — Barbershop singers program.

All the above activities will be held behind the Lincoln township public library, John Beers and Roosevelt roads.

5 p.m. — Baroque trio program, St. Luke's Lutheran church, 3020 Cleveland avenue, Stevensville.

7 p.m. — Teen dance, Stevensville parking lot, behind Grau's supermarket.

Sunset — Fireworks display, Baroda baseball diamond.

SATURDAY

All star baseball and softball games to be played at Baroda baseball diamond.

10 a.m. — Minor league.

HENRY GRIFFENDORF JR.
Promoted

Ex-BH Man Wins
Promotion In NYC

Henry E. Griffendorf Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Griffendorf Sr., 567 Montezuma road, fairplain, has been promoted to vice president for planning of the Insurance Services Office, a national insurance rate-setting firm.

Griffendorf is assigned to the ISO home office in New York City, reporting directly to Daniel J. McNamara, ISO president.

Griffendorf, formerly was vice president for the ISO southwestern region in Denver, Colo. He is a graduate of Benton Harbor high school and Michigan State university. He has been chief rater of the Michigan Department of Insurance, and manager of the Midwestern Branch of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters.

Griffendorf and his wife, Joan, are the parents of two daughters and a son. Mrs. Griffendorf is the daughter of Mrs. Alice Haines, Coloma, and the late Walter Haines.

The Griffendorfs live at Ramsey, N.J. His father has been in the insurance business 37 years in the Twin Cities.

Has Funds, Is Operating

The Benton Harbor Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) Program was operating today under a new one-year contract despite warnings, Monday that the program was being terminated.

4th Trash
Schedules

There will be no trash pickups in Benton Harbor, St. Joseph or Benton township on Friday because of the July 4 holiday. There will be a Friday trash pickup for St. Joseph township residents.

Trash not picked up Friday in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph will be picked up the following Monday. In Benton township those who usually have their trash picked up on Friday will have it picked up a week later on July 11.

St. Joe Board Will Meet

St. Joseph board of education will meet 9 a.m. Thursday to formally schedule a special election for Aug. 18 to ballot on two proposals for transportation and repairs.

The board is awaiting word from the county clerk's office to see if the election can be held on the 18th. Formal authorization for the election is necessary now rather than wait for the regular board meeting on July 14.

The board Monday night authorized Supt. Burton Aldrich to get formal resolutions for a election on half a mill for transportation of children who would have to walk along busy highways and six tenths of a mill to restore the building and site fund which is used to maintain schools.

TOBIAS OIL COMPANY: C. A. Tobias (left, foreground), Standard Oil agent in north Berrien county, is the first in Michigan to become a jobber for the oil company. He is congratulated by E. B. Davey (center) of Detroit, district sales manager for Standard Oil division of Amoco Oil Co. and Ralph Smith, Benton Harbor, territory manager. Tobias had operated as a commission agent since May, 1972 and will continue to supply Standard Oil products under the name of Tobias Oil Co. The commission agent system of delivering products has been a feature of the company since the 1890's. Tobias formerly operated a service station in St. Joseph for 21 years and served on the St. Joseph City commission for 10. (Staff photo)

BH To Begin Crackdown
On Bicycle Registrations

The Benton Harbor police department will begin a special bicycle theft prevention and recovery program July 9 which requires officers to confiscate all unlicensed bikes.

The program was approved Monday by the city commission. City Manager Charles Morrison said officers will patrol the city specifically to determine if riders are legitimate owners and if the bicycles are registered.

The purpose of the program, according to Morrison, is to deter bicycle thefts, increase bicycle registration and apprehend bicycle thieves. There is a $50 cents charge for registering bicycles.

Bicyclists stopped with unlicensed bikes will be asked either to register the bike on the scene or register at the bicycle compound at 261 Market street, between 8 and 9 a.m. and 5 and 6 p.m. Citizens may view confiscated bikes every Friday between 5 and 6 p.m. or Saturday between 9 and noon. The compound is located in an empty building east of Dial-A-Ride headquarters.

Morrison said officers will carry a list of reported bikes stolen, their description, serial number, and owner's name. Owners will be notified when stolen bicycles are recovered, he said.

Fulcher
Returning To Work

"I tried to apply for welfare, but they told me to go back to work," quipped veteran Berrien county Assistant Prosecutor Quentin R. Fulcher, who was sidelined last month with a serious infection in an arm.

Fulcher said he planned to go to the office later today. He entered Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, on June 9 and was released on June 28.

Fulcher said he still must take periodic whirlpool baths at Mercy and had one scheduled this morning.

"Then, I'm going down to the office—unless I drown in the bath," Fulcher chuckled.

Lincoln Phone Committee
Continuing Transfer Fight

A Lincoln township citizens group seeking transfer from the Mid-Michigan Telephone company's Bridgman exchange has agreed to continue its fight before the state public service commission.

Oscar Heritz, publicity chairman for Lincoln township Residents for Telephone Equality, said the group is seeking donations from its membership and other concerned citizens to hire an attorney to present its case before the public service commission in Lansing.

The group has also received word from the Lincoln township board in the form of a resolution passed at the board's June meeting, that the township board would assist financially in the group's legal battle.

The group has not hired an attorney yet but plans to in the near future. Estimated cost has been pegged at around $2,000 to hire a Lansing attorney, who will then apply for a hearing before the public service commission, Heritz said.

The group seeks transfer from Mid-Michigan's Bridgman exchange to Michigan Bell's St. Joseph exchange. Approximately 200 citizens in southwestern Lincoln township are in the affected area.

Chapters Donate $400

Money raised by a cookie sale and Christmas bazaar has been donated to Gateway, Inc., Berrien Springs, by Eta chapter, Niles, and Gamma chapter, St. Joseph, of Phi Chi Epsilon sorority.

The $400 contribution was used to purchase kitchen equipment for the workshop for mentally and physically handicapped adults.

Phi Chi Epsilon has given financial support to Gateway in previous years as one of its annual projects.

In the past, the two local chapters have received a donation from the sorority's national charity fund for Gateway.

The contribution was made during the chapters' picnic June 25 at Gateway. Eta chapter served as host to Gamma chapter.

Phi Chi Epsilon sorority has 19 chapters in Michigan and Indiana. The combined chapters have donated over $8,000 to worthy projects during 1974-75.

Michigan Picnic Potato Salad

Use plentiful Michigan foods for your Independence day picnic celebration.

Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture say there's an abundance of Michigan potatoes, pea beans, cheese and dairy products on the market. All are economical, nutritious and make great picnic foods.

Picnics call for salads and an all-time favorite is hearty potato salad made with low-cost Michigan potatoes. Looking for a flavor change? Make potato salad more tasty and nutritious with other plentiful foods. For example, add shredded cheddar cheese to your basic recipe and use dairy sour cream for the dressing.

Michigan potatoes are a substantial food. They contribute Vitamins C and B-1, niacin, iron, carbohydrate and high-quality vegetable protein. When combined with cheese they become a complete protein dish.

A popular Polish recipe for potato salad mixes another plentiful food, canned baked beans with cooked, diced potatoes. Sliced onion, dairy sour cream dressing and seasonings of salt, sugar, vinegar and prepared mustard are added. It's served on crisp lettuce leaves garnished with chopped green onions.

Still another marvelous potato salad is made with Michigan wine. To prepare: cook, peel and drain five medium potatoes. Slice and cover with 1/2 cup of dry white Michigan wine in a bowl. Turn slices several times. In another bowl, place one-third cup Italian-style salad dressing, four finely chopped green onions, 1/2 cup raw cauliflower bits, two chopped pimientos, 1/4 cup chopped black olives, 1/4 cup stuffed, chopped green olives and a dash of salt. Chill both mixtures well and toss gently together just before serving. If this is to be taken to a picnic site, carry both bowls separately and toss at the last minute. Recipe serves six.

Serve these salads as an accompaniment for barbecued beef, pork or poultry, or as a main dish with bread or crackers, fresh fruits and beverage.

LIBERTY DAYS PROGRAM Baroque Music Friday

A program of 18th century music will be presented by the Baroque Trio at St. Luke's Lutheran church, Stevensville, Friday, July 4, at 5 p.m.

Tickets will be available at the door.

The program is being held in conjunction with Liberty Days, Lakeshore area's biennial celebration for 1975, according to Mrs. John C. Florin, publicity chairman.

The newly organized group is under the leadership of Edward Cullinan, Bridgman, and uses modern electronic equipment to reproduce the sounds of various instruments, basically that of flute and harp for this particular music.

Selections will include works by Handel, Bach and Telemann and folk music, all of the 18th century.

Cullinan is owner of a music studio in Bridgman and teaches keyboard instruments. He is also organist and music director at Trinity Episcopal church, Niles.

Sally Morey, vocalist of Stevensville, has appeared in opera, musical comedy, choral groups and was producer of the Easter pageant in Stevensville this year.

Diana Thiele, Berrien Springs, received a bachelor of music degree in piano from Indiana university where she is now a member of the associate faculty.

Announce Auditions For Artists Theatre

Auditions for the Artists Theatre production of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," will be held Monday and Tuesday, July 7 and 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the Twin City Players Studio Theatre, Red Arrow highway, Stevensville, where Artists Theatre will present its summer productions.

The auditions are open to all who are interested.

The musical, which is based on Charles Schultz's "Peanuts," will be presented Aug. 1 and 2 and Aug. 8 and 9.

Rick Moore, a graduate student at Memphis State university and former member of Twin City Players, is the director.

This will be the fourth season for Artists Theatre which is primarily composed of local people devoted to the maintenance of summer theatre in the area.

Participants are from residents of the surrounding area as well as members of Twin City Players and the Lake Michigan college drama department.

The theatre also plans to present a variety show this summer Aug. 20-22.

Mary Baushke, a former LMC drama student and co-producer of Artists Theatre, will coordinate the variety show. All ages are invited to audition July 12 and 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Producers this year are Eddie Keeter, Rick Moore and Mary Baushke.

March Family Outdoors For Holiday Cookout

Here we are in a count down to our nation's 200th birthday celebration and you've got plenty of Fourth of July spirit — but your budget is rebelling.

Don't let higher food costs keep you from the pursuit of happiness this Fourth — march the family out into the back yard and — let them eat steak!

Thanks to two new recipes you can substitute economical round steak for a more expensive cut and celebrate in style.

Strips O'Steak Sandwiches help salute the red, white and blue without a lot of green since they're made with round steak cut in strips. The steak strips are brushed with a barbecue sauce which you stir up yourself with zesty prepared yellow mustard, catchup and Worcestershire sauce. There's freedom from grill-watching with this recipe since the steak strips are done in a turn in just five minutes. Served in crusty rolls these Strips O'Steak will be the hit of your backyard barbecue!

Celebration Macaroni Salad is as special as its name implies but easier to make than you'd guess. Green peas added to the macaroni as it cooks lend festive color. The extra special touch is in the sour cream dressing which you quickly stir together with an envelope of sour cream sauce mix.

Pickles and carrot sticks, iced tea or lemonade and fresh cantaloupe complete your holiday menu with flying colors.

STRIPS O'STEAK SANDWICHES

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup prepared yellow mustard
1 tablespoon catsup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 to 1 1/2 pounds round steak
Crusty rolls, split and buttered

Melt butter in saucepan. Stir in mustard, sugar, catsup, and Worcestershire sauce. Cut steak into strips about 1/4-inch thick; brush with sauce. Grill over hot coals or broil 4 to 5 minutes, turning once, until done. Serve on rolls. Makes 6 servings.

CELEBRATION MACARONI SALAD

2 cups uncooked elbow or shell macaroni
1 package (10-oz.) frozen peas
1 envelope (1 1/4-oz.) sour cream sauce mix
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 cup chopped celery

Cook macaroni in 6 cups boiling salted water for 10 minutes. Add peas; cook 5 minutes longer. Drain and chill. Stir together contents of sauce mix envelope, milk, and mayonnaise until smooth. Combine macaroni and peas, celery, and sour cream dressing; toss lightly. Makes 6 servings.

Need a legal way to have a bang-up Fourth of July? Bake a batch of Firecracker Cookies.

They light you up, you don't have to light them! Watch how these luscious oatmeal cookies just disappear without leaving a trace of their flame-red frosting on their coconut wicks.

Firecracker Cookies literally explode with good ingredients — quick or old-fashioned oats; for heartiness, brown sugar for sweetness and vanilla and cinnamon for extra allure. The dough is formed into 3-inch long "firecrackers," which are baked and cooled before they're decorated. (The organized cook can bake them before the holiday and freeze them. Then the fun of frosting them is saved for the Fourth!) Red confectioners sugar icing holds the ingenious shredded coconut wicks in place.

Firecracker Cookies go over with a bang as a picnic dessert, an afternoon snack or a mid-night treat. Lemonade is a good go-along for them. Whenever you serve them, expect to see eyes light up like a thousand Roman candles at midnight and to hear a deafening roar, something about wanting more!

FIRECRACKER COOKIES

1/2 cup shortening, soft
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 1/4 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked

Heat oven to moderate (375 degrees). Beat together shortening and sugar. Add water and vanilla; beat again. Sift together flour, cinnamon and salt. Gradually add to creamed mixture, blending well. Stir in oats; dough will be stiff.

Shape dough to form "firecrackers," 3 inches long and 3/4-inch thick. Place on ungreased cookie sheets and bake in preheated oven (375 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on wire rack. To decorate, place pieces of shredded coconut at one end of each "firecracker" and frost with red confectioners sugar frosting. Frosting will hold coconut in place. Makes about 4 dozen.

It happens every picnic time.

You carefully plan when to start the fire, when to put the franks on and when to set the table. Then sure enough, Dad and Billy decide to take a side trail on their woodland hike — and get delayed for an hour and Susan and Debbie refuse to come out of the water until everyone's ready to eat!

Two new recipes guarantee a Fourth of July picnic with no fireworks at mealtime. It's a foolproof fireworks-proof picnic since everything is ready whenever the family is!

Super Sauced Franks are grilled first, then put into a pan of spicy barbecue sauce to wait for the wandering picnickers. You can make the barbecue right at the picnic site with an envelope of seasoning mix for sloppy joes. Sliced dill pickles add a flavor surprise to the sauce. The entire mixture keeps hot and ready to heap into rolls when the clan finally gathers.

What's a picnic without homemade potato salad? Potato salad Au Gratin has down-home flavor with none of the bother or fuss. It starts out with already peeled and sliced potatoes which you get from a package of potatoes au gratin. The packaged seasoning mix adds a cheese flavored taste treat to the dressing. Make it in a hurry at home then keep it in a cooler chest until ready to serve. Celery sticks, corn chips or potato chips, frosted cake and iced tea or lemonade play the "waiting game" well and complete

Combine Vegetables For Hot, Spicy Dish

A fresh vegetable dish brings its own special flavor to a summer meal.

A blend of carrots and mushrooms, heightened by a touch of tarragon makes a difference in two vegetable standbys. Serve the dish hot as a departure from the too-often quick and cold foods people tend to eat during hot weather.

FRESH CARROTS AND MUSHROOMS TARRAGON

8 to 10 medium carrots (1 pound)
1 cup water
1 teaspoon dried leaf tarragon
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced

Pared carrots and cut into 1/4-inch crosswise slices. Place in medium saucepan. Add water, tarragon and salt. Cover and cook over medium heat 20 to 30 minutes, until tender. While carrots are cooking, heat butter in a small skillet. Add mushrooms to carrots and mix lightly. Makes four to six servings.

NO WONDER—NO AWNINGS!

Kicking about the heat? Don't blame your air conditioner. When windows are left exposed to direct sun rays, room temperatures soar. And so does the cooling cost. And so does the use of energy we are all asked to conserve. Canvas awnings put all your problems in the shade: keep rooms 8 to 15 degrees cooler, reduce cooling costs enough to pay for the awnings, and save precious energy. Call us today.

POTATO SALAD AU GRATIN

1 package (5 1/2-oz.) potatoes au gratin
3 slices bacon
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cups chopped celery

Cook potato slices from package in 3 cups boiling salted water for 15 to 20 minutes, until tender; drain and chill. Cook bacon until crisp, saving 1 tablespoon drippings. Crumble bacon. Combine seasoning mix from package of potatoes, sour cream, milk, and reserved bacon drippings. Combine chilled potatoes, crumbled bacon, and celery. Add dressing; toss lightly. Nixon Pushing For Documents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says time is running short and he cannot adequately write his memoirs unless he obtains the tapes and documents left behind when he resigned as president.

"I am 62 years old and desire to complete the task of reviewing my presidential materials during my lifetime," Nixon says in a sworn affidavit. "Each month that these materials remain unavailable for that purpose can never be recaptured and thus represents an invaluable loss."

The Nixon affidavit was the latest legal document in his fight with the government over ownership of the 42 million documents and 880 reels of tape recordings amassed in the 5½-year Nixon presidency.

The affidavit was filed late Monday with a three-judge court considering Nixon's claim that Congress acted unconstitutionally by giving the government possession of the materials. The government and other parties involved in the battle have another month to respond.

"Even though for nearly 200 years former presidents of the United States have been considered the owners of their presidential materials, the materials of my administration have been impounded at a location nearly 3,000 miles from my home in California and under restrictions which prevent any access by me or my authorized agents," Nixon said.

Nixon said the materials involved are of "almost limitless variety," including correspondence, memoranda, personal, official and political.

He said his associates would not have engaged in frank discussions if they had known that control of documents would be taken from Nixon.

"These discussions, if made public even now, would not necessarily jeopardize the national security or be embarrassing to the participants, but they would surely chill the willingness of persons in similar positions now and in the future to engage in such candid and robust discussions for fear that their thoughts too may be made public by congressional act," the affidavit said.

Gandhi Warms Up To U.S.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi says her government "is seriously trying for better relations with the United States" and hopes President Ford will go ahead with plans for a state visit late this year.

Mrs. Gandhi also announced a new economic program in an apparent effort to blunt criticism of her crackdown on her political opponents and the declaration of a national emergency she ordered last Thursday.

"It is very far from the truth to say that the government of India is anti-American," Mrs. Gandhi told a group of visiting American teachers on Tuesday. She said she drew personal inspiration from "the great fighters of American history, like Jefferson and Lincoln. I admire the dynamism of the American people and their great advances in science and technology."

The comments were Mrs. Gandhi's friendliest toward the United States since Washington resumed arms shipments to Pakistan in March.

The new economic program, announced by the prime minister in a broadcast, included the promise of measures benefiting poor farmers, city workers earning fixed incomes and businessmen who have complained of cumbersome licensing procedures.

"The emergency provides us a new opportunity to go ahead with our economic tasks," Mrs. Gandhi said. "There is a chance now to regain the nation's spirit of adventure. Let us get on with the job."

Women Adopt Sex Equality Blueprint

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The International Women's Conference adopted a 10-year action plan for sexual equality late Tuesday night, then turned to controversial political issues at its closing sessions today. The 10-year blueprint was adopted by acclamation without opposition. But heated debate and a split among the 133 delegations was expected on resolutions calling for the redistribution of the world's wealth and condemning Zionism along with colonialism and imperialism.

It is the major achievement of the two-week conference sponsored by the United Nations. The meeting, the focal point of the 1975 International Women's Year, brought together 1,300 official delegates. Another 4,000 attended a parallel, unofficial Tribune. Assessments of the worth of the conference varied. But Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., said it was "probably the most historic occasion in the history of women's struggle for liberation."

Changing society's stereotypes about women is a key goal of the plan of action, which declares: "A major obstacle in improving the status of women lies in public attitudes and values regarding women's roles in society." The document is intended to become a basic guide for governments, private groups and individuals to use to promote the equality of women with men.

It contains a large number of proposed programs and laws to end sexual discrimination. But it also places large stress on changing traditional attitudes about the woman's place, reflecting the delegates' contention that one major reason women have not pushed ahead is that they have accepted society's judgment that they cannot or should not.

Tax Sentence

DETROIT (AP) — A former Internal Revenue Service agent, William O. Williams of Inkster, was fined $2,500 and sentenced to two years probation for failing to file his 1969 income tax return and a 1971 return for a business he now heads.

Mysterious Death Was Drug Overdose

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Robert Antoszyk, the 29-year-old Ann Arbor yoga instructor who died mysteriously in his room while meditating, was a victim of a drug overdose, officials said Tuesday.

University Hospital Chief Pathologist Robert Hendrix said he had received a verbal report from the state Department of Health indicating high levels of cocaine were found in Antoszyk's blood and bile.

A second substance also was found in Antoszyk's tissues, but Hendrix said the state laboratory had not yet identified it.

Loot Valued At $3,000

WATERVLIET — Television sets and stereo equipment, valued at about $3,000, were reported taken in a break-in at Long's Television and Appliance store, West Red Arrow highway, Watervliet, early yesterday.

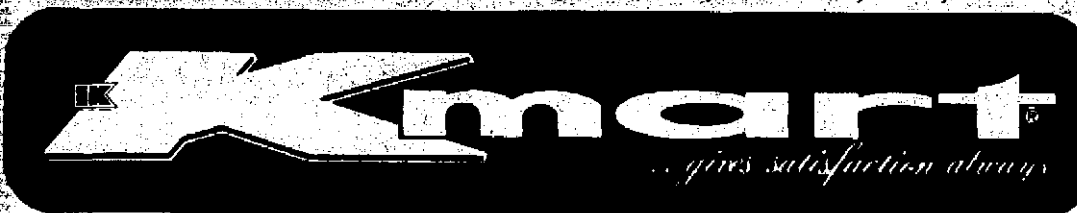

City Police Chief Bartley Rose said that four 19-inch table model TV sets, one 17-inch portable TV, a radio, a stereo and an 8-track console were taken. Rose said he discovered the break-in, while investigating another report in the same area. According to Rose, the lock had been pried off the front door of the firm.

Entry was believed to have been made between 2 and 4 a.m., he said.

He Wants 'Michigan White House'

By PATRICK CONNOLLY
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken says he will try to sell President Ford on the idea of establishing a "Michigan White House" during Ford's visit to the state July 11-13.

In an interview, Milliken also left the door ajar for a U.S. Senate run someday — but not next year — and aid he has not been contacted about the expected federal grand jury indictment of state Supreme Court Justice John Swainson.

Ford will get a sales pitch for "Michigan White House" on Mackinac Island, where he will be the overnight guest of the governor and his wife, Helen, July 12.

Milliken made his remarks in an impromptu news conference at a ceremony raising the American Revolution Bicentennial flag at the capitol. Michigan became a territory 170 years ago Tuesday.

Ford will stay with the Millikens at the state-owned Governor's summer residence high on a cedar-crested bluff overlooking the Straits of Mackinac and the quaint cobbled streets of the island.

where automobiles are forbidden.

Ford will join the Millikens and U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., for the National Cherry Festival at Traverse City the afternoon of July 11. Then he flies to Chicago and returns to Traverse City the afternoon of July 12 for the last nine holes of a golf tournament.

a Milliken spokesman said.

Ford, Griffin and the Millikens will attend a concert at Interlochen the evening of July 12 and then stay overnight on Mackinac Island. Ford will spend most of July 13 on the island.

"I think he's going to like this trip so well" Ford could decide to spend more presidential time off in Michigan, Milliken said, adding he will try to sell the President on the idea.

Again, Milliken spurned suggestions he might be coaxed into running next year for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich. But the governor made it clear his longrange plans do not rule out Congress.

Street Fighting Eases In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Street fighting in Beirut between religious and political factions tapered off early today, and the Lebanese began returning to work through streets strewn with war debris and rotting garbage.

The police reported more than 250 killed and 1,000 wounded in eight days of guerrilla warfare between left-wing, Moslem Palestinian and Lebanese and right-wing Christian Lebanese.

Government security forces patrolled the city in jeeps and armored cars, ordering the private armies and armed gangs to remove roadblocks.

Beirut Radio reported that all roads were secure except in the eastern suburbs of Chiyah and Ein Rummaneh, the main combat zones.

Scattered shooting was reported continuing in Chiyah between Christian militiamen of the Phalange party and leftist Moslems.

Premier Rashid Karami, who formed a "national reconciliation" cabinet Tuesday in which all Lebanon's major religious sects were represented, joined Palestine guerrilla chief Yasir Arafat in a new cease-fire appeal.

Karami's Christian interior minister, former President Camille Chamoun, made a television broadcast and warned that "snipers and troublemakers will face tough reaction from the security forces."

"Security forces have been instructed to shoot at fire sources anywhere," Chamoun said.

Girl Killer To Face New Trial

HOWELL, Mich. (AP) — The convicted killer of a 17-year-old Brighton girl stood mute Tuesday at his Livingston County Circuit court arraignment on a charge of being a third offender felon.

The charge cites Byron Lee Hoffmeister's convictions on three previous occasions — the 1971 second-degree stabbing murder of Wendy Braddon for which he was just sentenced to 60-90 years, and kidnapping and gross indecency convictions stemming from a 1968 incident in the Oakland County city of Berkley.

If convicted on the new charge, Hoffmeister, 28, would be ineligible for parole until his minimum sentence was served and then only upon written approval of the sentencing judge.

At his request, Hoffmeister also was appointed a new attorney by the court.

Bond Would Like Top NAACP Post

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Julian Bond says he would give up his Georgia state Senate seat and thoughts of seeking the presidency "in a minute" for the leadership of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Bond, who said Saturday that he would announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for president in two weeks, has been reported one of six persons being considered to succeed Roy Wilkins as executive director of the NAACP.

Returned To Board

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Stanley Krajewski of Southfield, editor of the Polish Daily News, has been reappointed to the State Board for Libraries by Gov. William Milliken.

Krajewski has served on the board since 1970. His reappointment Monday is for a term expiring in 1980 and is subject to Senate confirmation.

House Eyes Business Tax; Senate Passes Money Bills

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The House wrestled Tuesday with a plan to revise business taxes while the Senate approved budget bills which exceeded Gov. William Milliken's recommendations by $33 million.

Debate on the business tax package resumes today in the House, where opponents unsuccessfully tried to return it to the taxation committee.

The package would replace eight existing business taxes

Licenses Good For Four Years

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Motorists will be able to renew their driver's licenses every four years instead of three years under a bill signed into law Tuesday by Gov. William Milliken.

The measure also applies to chauffeur's licenses and changes the fee for original licenses and renewals. Letting drivers keep their licenses an extra year will save the state an estimated $1 million a year in paperwork in the future.

Two-year licenses can be issued to persons who have accumulated 12 or more points in the previous two years, who have had their licenses revoked or who have been convicted of six-point violations in the previous three years.

The bill also changes slightly the amount refunded to local units of government and permits the secretary of state to issue three-year licenses during the new program's three-year phase-in period.

Michigan becomes the 21st state to have a four-year license.

Helicopter Suspects Arraigned

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Dale O. Remling and three women accused of conspiring and assisting in his escape by helicopter from Southern Michigan Prison stood mute Tuesday upon arraignment before Jackson County Circuit Court Judge James Fleming.

Appearing in court with Remling, 46, were JoLynn Conn, 33, of Haslett, and Joann Van Patten and Susan J. Hill, both 20 and residents of Oak Grove.

Prosecutor Bruce A. Barton also charged Remling with a fourth felony under Michigan's habitual criminal statute. Conviction on the charge would make Remling liable to life imprisonment.

Barton based that charge on Remling's previous felony convictions in California, Nebraska and Michigan.

Remling came to court on charges on escaping from prison and conspiracy to do so. The women were there to answer charges of conspiracy and aiding the escape of a prisoner.

Upon learning that Barton plans to file motions to consolidate all four cases so they can be tried in the same court, Judge Fleming reserved assignments until those motions are heard.

Official Given Old Job Back

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Donald W. Irwin has been ordered reinstated with partial back pay after a review of charges that he fixed exams as secretary of the State Builders Division.

Irwin, however, was given a three-month disciplinary suspension without pay for the way he handled several exams for builders and contractors.

Irwin, 51, appealed his firing last Sept. 27 by the state Department of Licensing and Regulation over excusing certain questions on tests for builders and contractors. But a hearing officer ordered him reinstated with about $8,000 back pay and full benefits.

Testimony during six days of hearings showed by common practice and explicit approval of the Builders Board and former Licensing and Regulation officials, Irwin "was led to believe that he had authority to use his discretion relative to credit for" exam questions he considered unfair, said Richard Kanner, a Detroit attorney who acted as hearing officer.

The test questions involved "legal questions of a technical nature," Kanner said. The questions often were the difference between license applicants passing or failing the test.

FORD: NO ULTIMATUM
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says the United States has not given Israel an ultimatum to accept Egyptian terms for a Middle East settlement.

Washington, the AIA — which represents all imports except Volkswagen and Mercedes-Benz — asked that a complaint from Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., be dismissed.

Dent asked the department to investigate whether foreign auto makers are dumping cars here — selling them in the United States at prices below those in their home markets.

The Treasury Department returned the complaint to Dent, saying it was deficient in some respects. Dent's staff said a revised complaint would be filed.

A valid complaint automatically triggers a Treasury investigation, which could lead to punitive duties on imports if the charges are substantiated and proven to be harmful to

Wheelchair Hitchhiker

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Garry Bivins hitchhiked 1,800 miles through Tennessee, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi because he "wanted to do something that would be a little out of the norm." Bivins is confined to a wheelchair.

domestic industries and employment.

AIA President Ralph Millet of Saab said claims that dumping has led to increased import sales at the expense of American car companies are myths.

Millet said import sales in 1974 slumped as much as domestic sales, leaving foreign companies with unusually high stocks of leftover cars, which they have sold this year at the lower 1974 prices.

"This resulted in a temporary sales increase in the first five months of this year," he said. "But the import share of the market is now dropping down to what it was last year and sales are still far below 1973 levels."

Imports have taken a record 20.6 per cent share of the U.S. market so far this year. Their record share for an entire year came in 1974, when the import penetration hit 16 per cent.

However, after four straight months of taking better than a fifth of the market, the import share in May fell to 18.5 per cent — still a record for the month. Foreign companies attributed the decline to the sellout of 1974 leftover models.

Industry observers also credit the increase in import sales to fuel economy advantages many foreign cars have over Detroit models.

Millet said Dent's complaint lacked evidence of dumping or of injury to the domestic companies. "If a domestic industry does not consider itself injured by the dumping of imports, why should an anti-dumping investigation be conducted at all?"

he said.

The 4,750-member American Imported Automobile Dealers Association also has urged Treasury Secretary William E. Simon to reject the Dent petition.

Dent, whose subcommittee on labor standards has investigated the impact of imports on employment, specifically cited alleged dumping of the Volkswagen Rabbit and the British Leyland Marina.

Benton Trustees Studying Requests For $115,459

The Benton township board of trustees last night received and referred to study committees three requests for cultural and social service projects totaling $115,459.

Sought are a new bookmobile, expected to cost $54,459; a donation to a child day care center, $45,000; and a donation to a senior citizens' center, $14,000.

CANDIDATE: Former U.S. Attorney James R. Thompson announces in Chicago Tuesday that he will run for the Republican nomination for governor of Illinois. He said that the theme of his campaign will be that Illinois needs leadership. He also called for cooperation between the legislative and executive branches of state government. (AP Wirephoto)

The board indicated a final decision on the requests may be made at its next meeting Tuesday, July 15.

In other areas, the board okayed a Model Cities contract of $30,000 to enable Peoples Community Federal Credit union to purchase and renovate a building at 420 East Main street, Benton Harbor. Funds were made available before Model Cities expired on Monday, it was reported. The credit union was a Model Cities project.

Also approved was an amendment to the water connection ordinance that requires annual inspections by master plumbers of reduce back flow preventers used in some homes. This is tougher than state law which requires inspections every three years and was opposed by Trustees Chester Jollay Jr. and Joseph Postelli. The inspection fee is paid by the homeowner.

Special permits to stage July 4 fireworks displays were approved for Bob Burkholtz, Higman park and William S. Love, 1736 Ogden avenue.

During the board meeting, considerable discussion centered on the bookmobile, day care and senior citizen requests.

Robert Vandenberg of the township library committee said the existing bookmobile is about 12 years old and can't go on much longer because of wear and tear. He said a new bookmobile at $54,459, would cost about twice the amount paid for the old one 12 years ago. It serves schools and parks in the township.

The current bookmobile carries loaded weight at 16 tons, including 4,500 volumes, it was reported. The bookmobile is believed to have some 60,000 miles on it, but the odometer broke at about 22,000, it was reported.

The child day care center request was by Nora Jefferson, director for Community Parents, Inc., which the facility at 636 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor.

Mrs. Jefferson said the staff of 19 was terminated with Model Cities. This included eight paid from the federal government under Comprehensive Employment and Training Act funds. The latter were let go because they could not remain when Model Cities personnel with more seniority were terminated, Mrs. Jefferson said.

Mrs. Jefferson added that Model Cities era staffers could be rehired under CETA funds after a wait of 15 days.

Benton Harbor city commission has been asked for $70,000. The estimated budget to operate another year was listed at $165,000. Besides the city and township shares, the center would expect about $11,000 from tuition, $5,000 from a U.S. Department of Agriculture grant; $3,000 in gifts, and no determination on where the remaining $30,000-plus would come from, it was reported.

The center was reportedly designed for 60 children and 10 staffers, but the limit reached was 57 children and dropped to 37 after public schools let out for the summer. Mrs. Jefferson said when schools closed, more parents who worked left younger children in the custody of older children.

Mrs. Betty Smith, director of the senior citizens' center, 53 Wall street, Benton Harbor, said the original sponsor, the Berrien County Council on Aging, no longer is the umbrella agency to secure grants for this and three other centers in the county.

She said local units of government are taking over and the Benton Harbor center is now operated by the newly-formed Benton Harbor and Benton township Senior Citizens, Inc. Benton Harbor commissioners this week okayed up to $5,000 for the center, pending a study on its future operations.

Award-Winning Photographers To Be Berrien Contest Judges

Three national award-winning photographers have been named as judges for Berrien county CanAmer photography competition, to be held Sunday, July 13, at St. Joseph Holiday Inn.

They are, Brother Martinus of the University of Notre Dame and the Ave Maria Press; Don Mauro of South Bend; and Joe Macica of Newport News, Va.

Harold Andrus, chairman of the event, said entries are to be submitted to the CanAmer office by 5 p.m. next Monday.

Andrus said, "We're fortunate to have the cooperation of men of this caliber for our competition. All are national award winners in photography."

Judging on July 13 is open to the public, and winners will be presented medals in a brief ceremony, following the judges' decisions.

Tax-Sheltered Retirement Fund

for people without pension programs.

Federal legislation now makes it possible for individuals to establish their own private retirement plans. Such plans are especially good for self employed people...also for persons employed by firms without pension programs.

F&M's daily compounding of interest and the tax deferring feature build substantial sums in a relatively short period of time.

Coloma City Commission Votes To Buy Police Car

COLOMA — By a 3-to-2 vote, Coloma city commission last night approved purchase of a new police car during an emergency session.

The two dissenting votes on two motions, one for declaring the meeting an emergency session and the second motion for the purchase of the squad car were cast by Coloma Mayor Glenn Randall and Commissioner Fred Munchow.

Commissioners voting in favor of both were William Weybright, Robert Wooley and Harold Hammond. All three commissioners comprise the city's police committee.

The approval cleared the way for purchase of a 1978 police car, already built and ready for delivery within a week, from Overal Motors, South Haven, for $4,500. The firm's quote was the lowest of three prepared for last night's meeting.

Randall said he voted no because, "for the last 10 years we've gone through the same situation time after time — I can't see why it has to be — my votes are my protest for this type of meeting."

Munchow said "I'm against having to pay so much for a car, when we could fix up our present police car and wait until the new models come out, and get better bids."

"I intend to fight everything that goes over the budget," added Munchow. "We seem to be constantly running over budget for 'so-called' emergencies."

After the vote to purchase the squad car, a motion made during the commission's June 23 meeting to re-invest $7,200 of sewer bond money in a time certificate for one year was rescinded and the money placed into the city's general fund to pay for the new vehicle.

The money, according to Munchow, will be loaned to the general fund for an unlimited time, with the amount to be repaid when tax monies are received.

Commissioners voting in favor of the purchase of the new squad car said the present vehicle was in need of a major repair, although they contended they plan to repair the car now in service and keep it as a second standby police car.

No bids were received during the commission's June 23 meeting for a new squad car, resulting with price quotations being compiled for last night's meeting.

In another area, the commission approved a request by the Coloma Jaycees to hold an ice cream party for Coloma area senior citizens, in Baker park, Sunday, July 20.

Wayland Man Dies In Allegan Smashup

WAYLAND — A 21-year-old Wayland man was killed early this morning when the car he was driving ran off the road striking a guard rail, trees and power pole near here, according to state police at the Wayland post.

Pronounced dead at the scene by a deputy Allegan county medical examiner was William Percy Jackson. No one else was in the auto, police said.

The 12:02 a.m. accident occurred just west of Wayland in Allegan county's Hopkins township. Police said Jackson was headed west on 135th avenue and as he was crossing over the US-151 overpass he apparently lost control of his auto, striking a guard rail of the freeway on-ramp.

Police said Jackson's auto flew into the air after striking the guard rail and came down some 88 feet away in a group of trees, and then bounced back into the air traveling another 84 feet, before hitting a power pole and stopping.

Jackson's death was the seventh traffic fatality on Allegan county roads this year. Funeral arrangements were incomplete this morning at Archer-Hampel funeral home, Wayland.

Lasers Measure State's Surface

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Those orange-vested men stalking Northern Michigan at night with their laser beams aren't an invasion force from Mars.

They're a 20-member team from the National Geodetic Survey that is making highly precise measurements of the earth's surface.

Starting in the western end of the Upper Peninsula, they are working their way eastward before moving south to Lower Michigan.

The measurements — with an error of only an inch in 15 miles — are being taken at night because of reduced atmospheric distortion.

It differs from a normal surveyor's measurement in that it takes into account the curve of the earth and the movement of the earth's crust.

The lasers are used from the top of temporary towers to determine the precise elevation, longitude and latitude of hundreds of key points. Bronze markers are embedded in rock or concrete at the site to keep a record.

Special targets of the survey include Paulding, Covington, Republic, Skandia, Forest Lake, Shingleton, Seney, McMillan, Newberry, Hulbert, Eckerman and St. Ignace.

In the Lower Peninsula, they'll make detailed studies at Gaylord, Moorestown, Harrison, LeRoy, Luther, Freeport, Gladwin and Point Lookout.

The Michigan survey is part of a national program which began in 1961 and ends in 1976, when the entire job may start over again.

The findings of the survey allow road contractors to start two parts of a road hundreds of miles apart and be sure they'll come together in proper alignment.

The data is also useful for locating sites where the ground is stable enough to construct a dam or nuclear plant.

Land Site Sought For Taconite Waste

SILVER BAY, Minn. (AP) — The chairman of the Minnesota House Commerce and Economic Development Committee says he'll urge two Minnesota state agencies to issue permits authorizing Reserve Mining Co. to develop Milepost 7 as a site for disposal of its taconite waste.

Rep. Douglas Johnson, DFL-Cook, said he will ask the Department of Natural Resources and the Pollution Control Agency to issue the necessary permits "because the site is the best location available from environmental, social and economic standpoints."

He was among more than 200 Iron Range residents who attended a public hearing Monday on Reserve's request for permits to construct an on-land facility for discharge of taconite tailings as ordered by a federal court.

"The state should proceed with haste in issuing the permits, Johnson said, "to bring some stability to the economic and social well-being of the people who work for Reserve Mining Co. as well as result in an end to the discharge of taconite tailings into Lake Superior."

Wayne Johnson, an attorney representing northeastern Minnesota applicants, intervenors, brought a number of area witnesses to the stand to support Reserve's application for permits.

He said Reserve and area intervenors have evidence to show "there will not be a destruction of the environment but merely an alteration or a utilization of that environment for a short period of time."

Witnesses presented evidence showing the impact of Reserve's operation on the taxing districts and governmental units of the area.

Judge Won't Halt Filtration System

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Miles Lord has denied the attempt of a Duluth man to block any contracts for a water-filtration system in the northeastern Minnesota city. Roy A. Anderson has filed a class action suit against the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the city of Duluth and the secretary of the army, contending that Duluth residents are not being supplied with pure water. The drinking water for Duluth is taken from Lake Superior, which is the dumping ground for Reserve Mining Co.'s waste ground taconite, believed to be the source of minute asbestos fibers. A federal judge has ruled the taconite wastes in the water present a potential health hazard.

Escaped Convict From Minnesota Caught At Niles

NILES — A man identified as a convicted kidnaper who escaped from a Minnesota prison last month was taken into custody here early today after an intensive search touched off when a 12-year-old girl reported she had been dragged into a wooded area near here. The girl escaped unharmed when her screams and playmates frightened the man away, state police here said.

Taken into custody was Dennis Darry Linehan, 34. The arrest came at the man's room in the Four Flags hotel, here at 3:20 a.m.

Police said a man by the same name escaped June 20, from a prison in St. Paul, Minn. The arrest came 11 hours after the girl reported she had been assaulted. Sgt. Richard Kolenda of the state police post said his department would seek to prosecute the man in connection with the assault case.

James Zellmar, assistant warden at the prison in St. Paul, said Linehan had served almost 10 years of a 40-year sentence on the kidnapping conviction.

According to Zellmar, he had been a model prisoner and had been in a minimum security area when he walked away from the institution.

Linehan was convicted of kidnapping in 1965 in connection with a case involving a 14-year-old girl. The girl's body was found in a shallow roadside grave in Stanchfield, Minn. Authorities then theorized the girl, Barbara Iverson, had been strangled.

Police here could not immediately determine why the man was in this area.

Kolenda gave the following account leading up to the arrest. At about 5 p.m. yesterday, police received a report that the girl had been dragged into the wooded area in Cass county's Howard township, near Niles, where an attempt was made to sexually assault her. Kolenda said the man was scared off by playmates of the girl and by the girl's screams.

The man fled in an auto, but ran off Carberry road, Howard township, hitting some trees in a wooded area. The man then fled on foot into a wooded area.

Sgt. Kolenda said a subsequent search until about midnight failed to turn up the man, but tips from citizens and further surveillance of the room at the Four Flags hotel, eventually led to Linehan's apprehension.

Kolenda said the 12-year-old girl was unharmed. He said his department has also been in contact with Minnesota authorities, concerning Linehan's apprehension.

EARLY on June 17, 1975, the quiet morning air around Charles-town Heights, near Boston, was shattered by the roar of broadsides from H.M.S. Lively. The British were firing on Breed's pasture, the lower portion of Bunker Hill. In their three assaults on Breed's Hill, the 2,500 British regulars suffered 1,984 casualties including 228 killed. The 1,400 Minutemen suffered about 450 casualties with 140 dead. Misnamed the Battle of Bunker Hill, this first full-scale action of the Revolution ended in defeat for the Americans, but it undoubtedly convinced the British that they were in for a long and difficult struggle, the World Almanac recalls.

Three Killed In Head-On I-75 Crash

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (AP) — Three persons were killed Tuesday when a car traveling north in the southbound lane of Interstate 75 collided head-on with another auto, State Police said.

Police said the car traveling in the wrong lane was going about 80 miles an hour when it collided with the second auto.

Troopers said the driver of one of the cars, Henry Winfield Gurganus, 55, of rural Copenish, was killed, and his 62-year-old wife, Helen, was seriously injured and was hospitalized at Cheboygan.

Those killed in the other car were Thomas Solomoto, 34, of Southfield and his 28-year-old wife, Karen. The Solomotos' 3-year-old daughter, Marcella, was injured and was hospitalized at Cheboygan.

Teenager Accused In Two Deaths

STANTON, Mich. (AP) — A 17-year-old Riverdale youth was arraigned Tuesday in Montcalm County on an open charge of murder in connection with the deaths of a Grass Lake couple.

Bert Hunt faced the charges before 64th District Court Judge Benjamin Franklin and demanded an examination.

Police said a former companion of Hunt's told them the accused hurled a rock at Lloyd and Frances Walz, who died recently when their motorcycle crashed on Michigan 46. Police say the youth told them he and Hunt were hitchhiking at the time.

LEVI WON'T ASK WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi says he won't ask President Ford's permission if he decides to prosecute those involved in Central Intelligence Agency assassination plots and domestic wrongdoing.

Milliken Vetoes Bill Exempting Inspections

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has vetoed a bill to exempt the venerable old agriculture relic — the steam traction engine — from licensed boiler inspection. The steam engine is "the most dangerous of all boilers in Michigan," Milliken quoted the state Labor Department as saying. Steam traction engines today are run for show purposes, where people squeeze in close to see how they work and sometimes ride and operate them, Milliken said. The engines also are used in tug-of-war, tetter tottering, hill climbing and races at fairs. Exempting them from inspection by licensed boiler inspectors and from repairs by a competent licensed boiler repairman "would open the door for unsafe steam traction engine boilers not now allowed to operate in Michigan," Milliken said.

KEELER TOWNSHIP Sewerage Study Approved

KEELER — Keeler township board last night instructed its engineering firm, Gove and associates of Kalamazoo, to begin a feasibility study for a sewage disposal system for the township.

If constructed, the system would tie in with a centralized disposal plant between Hartford and Lawrence or one in the Dowagiac area. The engineering firm is expected to report back to the board with cost estimates next month.

$3 Million Laser Grant

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — An Ann Arbor firm, KMS Fusion Inc., has been awarded nearly $3 million to do laser research this summer, the firm said Tuesday. The firm said it would work on using lasers as a source of energy by compressing pellets of thermonuclear fuel with concentrated laser bursts. These charges are designed to compress and heat the pellets. Energy from the pellets, released as X-rays, can be converted to heat, which in turn may be used to generate steam for electricity or chemical processing, the company said. The project is being funded by the Energy Research and Development Administration.

Summer Job Funds Due

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has approved a federally funded program to provide summer recreation for thousands of needy youths in Michigan, the governor's office said Tuesday. Milliken signed authorizations enabling municipal and county sponsors to begin receiving $592,280 in federal grants. The recreation program is restricted to economically - disadvantaged youth from 8 to 14 years old.

Detroit Bus Debate Bitter

DETROIT (AP) — Final approval for the purchase of 150 school buses to be used in a desegregation plan was approved Tuesday by the Detroit School Board after a bitter debate. The 8-4 vote in favor of the purchase was split along racial lines, with the four white members voting against the purchase. They also voted against a move to send a bus plan to U.S. District Court Judge Robert DeMasco last April, but lost then, too. DeMasco ordered the bus purchase in May, and the school board is to pay for 25 percent of the buses, with the state picking up the remaining costs in the $2.46 million purchase. The buses will be purchased from five firms, because no one company could meet the 150-bus order by September 3, when school reopens and busing may begin.

Milliken Urges Jobs Bill

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken says he is encouraged by President Ford's signing of a bill guaranteeing extended unemployment benefits to laid-off workers through the end of 1975. "Michigan, with the highest unemployment rate in the nation, had more at stake in this legislation than any other state," Milliken said Tuesday. "Compensation, however, can never take the place of employment, and so I am renewing my call for public employment programs that will provide willing workers with meaningful employment and will provide society with needed public services — especially in construction, railroad track maintenance and conservation," the governor said. Without the new bill, the law authorizing extended benefits would have expired.

Essexville Mayor Recalled

ESSEXVILLE, Mich. (AP) — Essexville Mayor Timothy Schafer was recalled Tuesday in a narrow vote. The community will be without a chief executive until August. Schafer was ousted by a vote of 677 to 600, with 47 percent of the town's voters going to the polls. A group called the Pro Charter Committee accused Schafer and three councilmen of conspiring to fire Daniel Elliott, the former city manager. There was no word on whether Elliott would be rehired. A special election to replace Schafer will be held in conjunction with the August primary.

Promises 'All-Out Effort'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken says he intends to "make an all-out effort" to win passage of a comprehensive political reform package this year even though he signed a bill delaying implementation of one campaign finance disclosure law. Milliken signed a bill to delay the effective date of the 1974 Campaign Finance Act from July 1 to Sept. 1 as part of a bipartisan agreement. The effective date of the law was postponed once from April 1. Milliken and legislative leaders of both parties said they agreed to press for final action on a political reform package backed by Michigan Common Cause, which combines now regulations for campaign finance, lobbying and conflict of interest.

Township Trio Recalled

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — Three Battle Creek Township officials were recalled Tuesday in an election that stemmed from a dispute over a drain project in the township. The three voted out of office were Supervisor John Fritzer, Clerk Rhodora L. Reichert and Trustee David B. Puetz. Fritzer was recalled by a 2,220-2,022 vote; Miss Reichert by 2,145-2,034 and Puetz by 2,237-1,986. Only 31.5 percent of the 13,000 registered voters in the township cast ballots in the hotly contested election. The three officials had been accused by a citizens group, the Citizens Action Committee, with illegally levying a tax for a drain that would have served the township's northwestern section.

The Millionth Visitor

DETROIT (AP) — A three-hour wait paid off Tuesday for a 68-year-old Detroit woman who became the one-millionth person to visit the Freedom Train. Mrs. Rebecca Robinson received a color television set, a special medallion, a free ride to Grand Rapids next week and will get to spend an afternoon with home run king Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Brewers. Mrs. Robinson, who recently had hip surgery, spent part of her long wait in a wheelchair in the shade while her husband, Bill, 67, waited in line to see the train, which holds historical documents commemorating the nation's bicentennial.

Drive-In Shutdown Sought

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The Washtenaw County prosecutor says he wants to shut down a drive-in theater which shows X-rated films because the movies can be seen from a nearby public highway. William Delhey says the films shown at the Scio Drive-In Theater in Scio Township are "hard-core pornography." Delhey says he has grounds to close the theater, because "the law films create a public nuisance in that they can be seen from a public right of way." But Stephen Taylor, the attorney for VIP Theaters of Michigan which operates the drive-in, says a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling prevents Delhey from closing the Scio. Last Monday the court ruled 6-3 that a Jacksonville, Fla., law banning movies at drive-ins in which bare breasts and buttocks appear was unconstitutional.

In other areas, the board told Gene Lucas of Sister Lakes that it would support a petition drive to lower the speed limits and establish a blinker light at the intersection of M-132 and CR-400. It was reported that the intersection has been scene of two accidents with the past week.

The board told Arley Herron of Keeler to contact the township planning commission regarding a permit to sell used cars on his property.

NAACP Hits Seniority System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The seniority system and the rule that the last hired is the first fired are among the prime topics at the NAACP's 66th annual convention here.

Some of the 3,000 delegates believe the position the NAACP takes on the question could determine the future of its relationship with a long-standing ally, organized labor.

The delegates were to hear today from Carla A. Hills, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, and Treasury Secretary William E. Simon. President Ford and Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman addressed the convention Tuesday.

The AFL-CIO has taken a position favoring the seniority system. But some National Association for the Advancement of Colored People delegates want the convention to adopt a resolution backing some other way of allocating layoffs and job dismissals.

Mr. Whited was born July 1, 1889, in Porter Township. Surviving are his widow, the former Marie Merrick; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Evelyn Cotton, South Bend and a sister, Mrs. Clarence Fife, Cassopolis.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday in Connelly funeral home, Cassopolis. Burial will be in Shave Head cemetery, Porter township.

Masonic candle services will be held at 8 this evening in the funeral home.

Mrs. Emma Lamp

BANGOR — Mrs. Emma Lamp, 87, Route 1, Brimley, Mich., formerly of Bangor, died Monday at her home.

Surviving are nine daughters, Mrs. Ann Koops, Antioch, Ill.; Mrs. Elsie Butler, Mrs. Mae Yankovich, both of Bangor, Mrs. Olga Smith, Brookville, Fla., Mrs. Gertrude Butler, Grand Junction, Mrs. Lula Swetay, South Haven, Mrs. Eleanor Walker, Hartford, Mrs. Mildred Wagner, South Haven and Mrs. Elizabeth Perry, Brimley. Her husband John preceded her in death in 1964.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Stafford-Robbins funeral home, Bangor. Burial will be in Monk cemetery.

Henry A. Loos

SOUTH HAVEN — Henry A. Loos, 70, died June 27 in a nursing home in Puyallup, Wash.

Mr. Loos was born Aug. 4, 1894, in Germany and had resided in the South Haven and Bangor areas in the early 50s.

Surviving are three sons, Henry, Niles, Orlo, Fennville and Robert, Germany; six daughters, Mrs. Donald (Ellanora) Gross, South Bend, Mrs. Allen (Gertrude) Davis and Mrs. Duffie (Grace) Reese, both of South Haven, Mrs. Clyde (Habelle) Sutherland, Dade City, Fla., Mrs. Elizabeth Ragle, Decatur and Mrs. Marvin (Cathryn) Bronson, Dowagiac; two sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services and burial were held Monday in Tacoma, Wash.

Neil E. Millar

GANGES — Neil E. Millar, formerly of Ganges, died June 17 in Downey, Calif., where he made his home since 1940.

Surviving are his widow Jerry; a brother Clarence, of this area and a sister, Mrs. Elta Mae Rush, Lowell.

Frank Lillie

DOWAGIAC — Frank Louis Lillie, 45, Route 1, Dowagiac, died early this morning at his home.

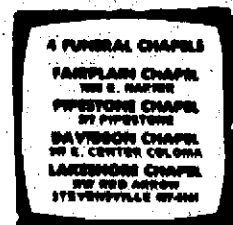

Surviving are his widow, the former Donna Gwilt; two sons, Michael and Myron and three daughters, Marsha, Marcel and Myra, all at home; his mother, Mrs. Martha Lillie, Cassopolis; a brother George, Dowagiac and two sisters, Mrs. Sara Mott, Dowagiac and Mrs. Florabelle Leach, Cassopolis.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in McLaughlin funeral home, Dowagiac, where friends may call after 4 p.m. Friday. Burial will be in South Wayne cemetery.

The delegates were to hear today from Carla A. Hills, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, and Treasury Secretary William E. Simon. President Ford and Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman addressed the convention Tuesday.

State, City Reel Under Walkouts training order was issued against strikers at a special school for children.

Time is working against both sides in the Pennsylvania dispute. The 10 unions involved have little or no strike funds to ease the impact of salaries being lost by striking members — and a prolonged, unresolved strike will bog down state government and "reflect on Shapp, who has presidential hopes.

In New York, the state's Taylor law prohibits strikes by state employees. Pennsylvania state employees are barred by statute from striking if public health, safety or welfare is threatened.

Testimony Stuns Court Observers

presiding over the trial, told Langford: "You have the right to plead the Fifth, to refuse to answer any questions that would tend to incriminate you as to any crime." But the judge told him that he cannot refuse questions which are not incriminatory.

McDowell asked Langford about Langford's testimony during a preliminary examination for Cross, when Langford had said he was hired by Cross to kill Mrs. Walker as part of an insurance scheme.

Langford at that time vividly described how he had picked up Mrs. Walker and taken her to York avenue, how an argument ensued, how he shot her with a revolver and shotgun, and then left her body in a ditch.

Langford yesterday told the court that testimony was "false."

Asked after court adjourned whether he thought the case had blown-up or if he planned to proceed with the trial, McDowell said: "I can't comment." Prosecutor John A. Smolenski had a like response: "No comment."

The entire morning yesterday was spent selecting a jury, which ended with eight women and six men (two of whom will be dismissed before deliberations). The entire jury panel is white.

During opening remarks to the jury, McDowell told them he expected Langford's testimony would "show Cross was a party to the agreement to kill Audrey Bridgewater for insurance proceeds," and of "a profit to be made with the elimination of Audrey Bridgewater."

He said testimony would show Cross aided in the murder because he allegedly "procured a gun and loaned a car" to Langford. He also cited three $1,000 insurance policies allegedly sold to Mrs. Walker (Bridgewater) by Cross, naming Langford as the beneficiary.

"Our claim is that Mr. Cross had nothing to do with this so-called alleged murder," Defense Atty. Alphonse Lewis said in his opening statement.

Lewis called Cross a "law-abiding citizen who's never been in trouble in his life," and said character witnesses "will show what kind of a man Mr. Cross is."

Langford, the third prosecution witness, contradicted his earlier district court testimony in a series of questions from McDowell.

McDowell: "Where was the last time you saw her (Mrs. Walker)?" Langford: "At her apartment."

McDowell: "What time was that?" Langford: "About 8:30 p.m."

McDowell: "Was she alive and healthy at that time?" Langford: "Yes."

McDowell: "What was the date?"

Richard J. Vizzini, New York's fire-union chief, urged his members to "take care of your health." As a result, there have been reports of firemen reporting themselves "sick" as they returned from fires.

Ken McFeeley, head of the New York policemen's union promised "a course of action, and I'm talking about a job action" would be considered by his board today.

Meanwhile in Rhode Island, Pawtucket city officials got a court order that halted a work stoppage by about 300 city workers.

Garbage was uncollected in that city of 78,000 and City Hall, sanitation, public works, and recreation employees had refused to report to work.

Langford: "I think it was the 19th (of February)."

McDowell: "When did you find out Audrey Bridgewater was dead?"

Langford: "The 19th or 20th." McDowell asked how Langford found out, and Langford said Cross' brother had called him in Detroit. "He told me one of my associates was killed," Langford said flatly.

McDowell kept asking a series of seemingly unrelated questions, all of which were answered by Langford, until court adjourned at 4:30. Both Cross and Langford were returned to the county jail, where they are being held without bond.

Trial was scheduled to have resumed this morning at 9:30.

Cross' trial is the first of two in which conspiracy to commit murder for collection of insurance policies is charged.

Trial is pending for Johnny Dortch, 27, accused in the murder of his allegedly illegitimate son and the boy's mother. Langford testified in preliminary examination that he also was the "hit man" in those murders.

Cross and Dortch were Western and Southern Life Insurance agents at the times of the murders.

Six Attend Pom Pom Workshop

Six members of the St. Joseph high school pom pom squad participated in a workshop June 18-20 for drill team or pom pom squad members at Vincennes, Ind., university.

Participating were Alisa Nelson and Nanette Borutski, seniors; Cindy Kapaczynski, junior, and Marilou Ramirez, sophomore.

Workshops were staffed by certified members of the National Drill Team Association, trained by Duke Miller, president.

BERRIEN TAX CHALLENGE IS OFFICIAL

County's Petition Protests Valuation Set By State

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Berrien county today formally challenged the equalized valuation set on the county by the State Tax Commission by filing an appeal with the State Tax Tribunal.

The county filed a petition with the tribunal, the state's new appellate body for equalization appeals, challenging $39,144,835 which was tacked onto real property valuation by the tax commission.

The appeal is the latest development in a controversy which began in April when the county board of commissioners, in a 7 to 6 vote, decided not to accept the real estate tax valuation proposed by the county's equalization department and the board's own equalization committee.

Instead, the board cut a 4½ per cent inflation increase out of the real property valuation, but that was overturned by the tax commission, which restored the original figure from the equalization department and tacked on another $390,410.

Personal property valuations, set at $294,965,109, are not being appealed.

The county is asking the tribunal to overrule the $657,357,697 real property figure established by the tax commission, and restore the valuation which the county board adopted — $616,212,762. The county's current equalized valuation for both real and personal property, as set by the tax commission, is $1,122,622,806.

The board of commissioners last month also in a split vote, approved the $200 filing fee for the appeal.

Asst. Prosecutor John Bruha, who filed the appeal on behalf of the county, said the main thrust of the appeal is that there was no increase in real property values last year (with the exception of new property), and that the $390,410 tacked on by the tax commission was "punitive."

Bruha explained it is the first time the tribunal, established last September, has been used to appeal equalizations, and county board members indicated other counties may also appeal the equalizations set on them by the tax commission.

Bruha said the tribunal is composed of two attorneys, one assessor, one real estate appraiser, and one certified public accountant.

Bicycle Hand Signal Rules Now In Effect

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — New hand signals for bicycle riders are in effect in Michigan, Secretary of State Richard Austin reminded bikers Tuesday. The 1974 law established new hand signals to be used before making turns, slowing down or stopping. Bicyclists, like drivers of all vehicles not equipped with mechanical or electrical signal devices, are required to give the proper hand signals.

They are:

- For right turns, hand and arm extended upward.
- Left turn, hand and arm extended straight out.
- Stop or Slowing down, hand and arm extended downward.

NEW PRESIDENT: Dr. Philip Hecht, Berrien Springs veterinarian, has been elected president of the Berrien Springs-Eau Claire Rotary club for 1975-76, replacing Ed Garber. Other officers are Jerry Weimann, vice president; Phil Lebeck, secretary; Walter Zielke, treasurer; and directors, Bill Warren, Ed Garber, Jerry Johnson, and Jon Schuster.

Berrien March Of Dimes Drive Collects $32,584

The Berrien County Chapter of The National Foundation March of Dimes collected a total of $32,584 in its 1975 fund raising campaign, according to an announcement by Mrs. Melvin Bookout, chapter chairman, at last week's annual chapter meeting at Berrien county courthouse.

"With almost $7,000 in pledges still to come in from the walkathon, this year's campaign will raise over $35,000, a considerable increase over recent years," Mrs. Bookout said.

She credited the enthusiastic participation of several hundred young people in the first annual March of Dimes Walkathon with helping the local chapter reach its goal.

"They walked the 15 mile course mostly in pouring rain. A few of them ran the entire distance and we were pleasantly surprised how few of the kids dropped out, many of them refusing lifts even when they seemed to be too exhausted to go any further," Mrs. Bookout said.

Mrs. Bookout of Niles was re-elected to a third term as chapter chairman at the annual meeting. Robert Brennan of St. Joseph was re-elected treasurer, and Jack Baker of Stevensville was elected secretary. Mrs. John (Val) Grimes of Coloma was appointed executive secretary succeeding Mrs. Joanne Miller who was elected to the executive committee. Others re-elected to the executive committee were Mrs. Georgia Helms of Fairplain and Postmaster Robert McMillan of St. Joseph.

Pipestone 'Evel Knievel' Will Use A Snowmobile

EAU CLAIRE — Frank James, owner of Eau Claire Sports Vehicles, M-140, said yesterday he will attempt to cross approximately 400 feet of open water on a snowmobile, Friday, July 4, at 2 p.m.

James, who is also a village council member, said the attempt will be made to cross a bay on Pipestone lake at Bass Island park, using a modified (racing) 600 Polaris snowmobile. He said no attachments, such as water skis will have been added to the snowmobile.

James said he hopes to reach a speed of about 100 miles per hour on land before hitting the water. "If I make it, it will be a world record," James said. He said snowmobiles have gone over about 200 feet of water before.

Berrien Granted $14.1 Million For Niles Sewer

A spokesman for Rep. Edward Hutchinson reported yesterday that the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has issued a $14.1 million grant to Berrien county for construction of waste water treatment facilities.

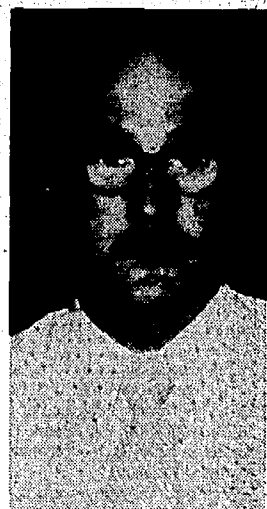

Robert Barnes, director of the Berrien county public works department (BPW), said the $14.1 million is the large EPA grant the county has ever received.

Barnes said the $14.1 million will go for a waste treatment plant to serve Niles City and Niles township. The plant will be located in the city. The project will include construction of a sanitary interceptor sewer and a sanitary sewer separation system.

Construction on the project will take at least a couple of years and construction bids are expected to be taken this fall, according to Barnes.

Last week the county received an EPA grant for $7.5 million to go for a sewage collection system in Niles township.

ASSUMES POST: Dr. Donald Drago has assumed duties as superintendent of Bloomingdale schools, succeeding William Nolan who retired. Dr. Drago was selected for post June 10, by school board. He is to be paid $24,000. Dr. Drago had been principal at junior high school in Mt. Clemens, before accepting new post.

Wimbledon Favorite In Semifinals Nastase Tunes Up Connors

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Fiery, illic Nastase is no longer competing at Wimbledon this year, but he may be a prime reason why Jimmy Connors is the odds-on favorite to retain his singles title here.

Connors has reached the semifinals without dropping a set and says he owes much of that success to the controversial, temperamental Romanian, an early casualty in this year's competition.

One of his secret weapons, he says, is a daily practice with Nastase, his close friend and doubles partner. "Every day he plays different," said Connors, explaining why he's able to sharpen his game against any sort of tactics.

Connors, 22, powered his way past Mexico's stylish Raul Ramirez 6-4, 6-8, 6-2 Tuesday, making some mistakes but playing what he described as "really tough tennis" when he needed to.

The defending champion is one of three American semifinalists who will play on Thursday. He'll face fellow lefthander Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., who survived a testing five-set quarterfinal against Guillermo Vilas of Argentina to win 6-4, 5-7, 6-8, 6-2, 6-2. Tanner relied on his big serve to edge Vilas 23 times.

The other men's semifinal is between veterans Arthur Ashe, 31, from Miami, and 30-year-old Australian Tony Roche. Ashe beat Sweden's Bjorn Borg 2-6, 6-4, 8-6, 6-1 Tuesday, with Borg complaining later of a groin injury. Roche reached the semis by outlasting Tom Okker of the Netherlands, 2-6; 9-8, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

The top two American women of the past 15 years — Billie Jean King of San Mateo, Calif., and defending champion Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. — meet in a singles semifinal today.

The other women semifinalists are Australians Margaret Court and Evonne Goolagong Cawley. All four are former Wimbledon champions.

Lolich Three-Hitter Checks Tiger Slide

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mickey Lolich opened Tuesday's game with the Cleveland Indians by breezing down the pitchers mound, but in the end it was Indians who fell.

Lolich, the tubby Detroit Tiger lefthander, recovered from his pre-pitch stumble and hurled the Detroit Tigers to a welcome 6-2 victory, ending a five-game losing dive.

"I just tripped," said Lolich of his game-opening dance, discounting theories his pot belly had thrown him off balance. He held Cleveland to three hits, boosting his record to 9-5.

The Bengals return home tonight to face the Baltimore Orioles. Tom Walker, 2-3, will pitch for Detroit against the Orioles' Ross Grimsley, 4-8.

The welcome win was just the third for Detroit in the last 18 games and the fifth in the last 26.

Lolich doesn't usually stumble when he faces the Indians and the victory continued his dominance of the Tribe, upping his career total over them to 30-15.

"You don't really think about a thing like that," said the 34-year-old lefthander, who carries much of his 215 pounds around his waist. "When you've been around as long as I have you're bound to win a few here and there."

Lolich gave up hits in the first three innings and one of them was Charlie Spikes' fourth home run of the season.

In the sixth the Indians collected their second run when Frank Duffy reached second on leftfielder Dan Meyer's error, moved to third on Buddy Bell's sacrifice fly.

"I've changed my pitching style a little this year," said Lolich, who struck out four batters. "I'm not relying on my fastball much and I'm not striking out as many batters. I used to be consistent with eight or nine strikeouts a game up until this year. I'm getting older."

The Tigers collected two runs in the first when Willie Horton and Bill Freehan drove home Gary Sutherland and Dan Meyer with singles off starter and loser, Jim Bibby, 3-8.

Another came in the seventh when Aurelio Rodriguez scored on an error, which put the Tigers in front 3-2.

Ron LeFlore's two-run homer and Rodriguez's run-scoring single gave the Tigers security in the eighth.

Lolich said he doesn't worry about how poorly the Tigers have been playing when he goes out to the mound.

"If you start worrying about that, you press too hard," he said. "You've got to go out there and pitch your game. And I still think that pitching is mostly strategy. It's the pitcher versus the batter as far as I see it."

Indians Manager Frank Robinson said that he will follow through with a protest lodged in the seventh inning.

Robinson claimed that Rodriguez interfered with catcher John Ellis as he was attempting to field Rodriguez's bunt.

Robinson said he believes his chances of winning the protest are zero, but "If I've got a legitimate complaint I felt it should be filed."

Robinson said he believed Bibby pitched a decent game, but Lolich pitched a better one.

The Indians begin a two-game series with the New York Yankees here tonight.

Memorial Game Set For Nov. 15

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual Whitney M. Young Jr. Memorial Football Classic will be played Nov. 15 at Shea Stadium, the New York Urban League announced Tuesday.

Horace W. Morris, executive director of the Urban League, said the teams playing in this year's game will be announced next month.

The classic is the largest interracially sponsored black athletic event in the United States. Last year's opponents were Grambling and North Carolina A&T.

The kids want us to take them to the beach, dear... Ask your manager if you can start on the mound today so we can get away from the game early."

Swede Clips World Mark

Garderud Just Running For Victory Now

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Anders Garderud of Sweden clipped his own six-day-old world record by six-tenths of a second in a gruelling 3,000-meter steeplechase race at an international track and field meet Tuesday, and said he won't be running for world marks any more.

"It's enough for me now," said the tall, blond Swede after clocking 8:09.8 before a capacity crowd of 20,000 cheering fans at the Olympic stadium here.

"From now on I'll be running for victory, that's the most important thing for me. I want to win the gold medal at the Montreal Olympics next year. I want that medal badly."

Garderud, 29, who beat Kenyan Ben Jipcho's previous two-year-old world record last week in Oslo with a clocking of 8:10.4, is undoubtedly the hottest man in track at the moment.

But he has never won any of the big honors. He failed in the 1972 Olympics in Munich and had to settle for a silver medal last year at the European Championships in Rome, behind Poland's Bronislaw Malinowski.

The 24-year-old Pole, Garderud's archrival for the past year, was soundly beaten in the finish here by the Swede but still bettered his national record clocking 8:12.8.

Garderud's performance was the highlight of the two-day meet here, despite New Zealand's John Walker's excellent 3:52.2 mile Monday, only 1.2 seconds off Tanzanian Filbert Bayi's world mark. U.S. athletes, part of the U.S. team which meets the Soviet Union in Kiev next Friday and Saturday, won three events Tuesday, but the results were below world standard.

Larry Brown won the 200 meters in 20.9, Danny Seay took the broad jump with a leap of 26 feet, one-quarter inch and Rory Kotinek the high jump at 7-3. World record-holder Dwight Stones was second at 7-1 1/4.

Community Works Year-Around For Demanding 'Miss Madison'

MADISON, Ind. (AP) — This is the week in the sun for Miss Madison, known locally as a floating Chamber of Commerce.

It's the week of the annual Indiana Governor's Cup Race on the Ohio River here. More than 100,000 spectators are expected to watch Sunday's race from the Kentucky and Indiana banks of the Ohio.

And both the crew of the big boat named Miss Madison and the people of this community work just about year-round to put on this show.

The crew of the community-owned and operated unlimited hydroplane call their boat a demanding mistress. Their wives and children often call her less elegant names.

It takes time, dedication and talent to run the big boats on the American Power Boat Association circuit. It generally takes plenty of money as well.

But Miss Madison is a special case, even among the 15 or 20 boats that comprise the elite unlimited hydroplane fleet. It is a totally volunteer project and has become something of a cross between a religion and an obsession to the people of this town of 12,000.

The people who work on it, the man who drives it and the money that keeps it on the circuit come in the form of gratuity. The spirit that has kept the Madison Regatta going since 1950 is also a product of that volunteer mania.

Last year, when April tornadoes turned parts of Madison and nearby Hanover into gigantic and expensive reconstruction projects, the race was momentarily cancelled, then rescheduled from July to October.

The people involved in the project wouldn't let it die though massive efforts were needed to put the town back together first.

The first Miss Madison was donated to the community by Samuel F. Dupont in 1959. The boat, called Nitrogen I, was demolished in Gold Cup qualifications in 1963.

Dupont, a member of one of America's wealthiest families and a hydroplane devotee, then gave Madison the Nitrogen II, which was used until it sank in the Detroit River during practice in 1973.

The new hull ordered after that accident is the current Miss Madison, recently a target of criticism for being an outdated boat.

"When we had this hull built, its twin sister was the national champion," said Mike Hanson, treasurer of Miss Madison, Inc. "There's no reason that, with a few modifications, we can't be right back in there with the rest of them."

Miss Madison, driven by Jerry Bangs of Seattle, finished out of the money at Miami, fifth at Washington, D.C., fourth at Owensboro, Ky., and fifth last Sunday at Detroit.

Meyer Fourth In State Pro-Am

PARMA, Mich. (AP) — Timo Kipelainen, assistant pro at Pine Lake Country Club and Bill Brafford, the club's former champion, slashed 24 shots from par Tuesday to win the Michigan Pro-Am Golf Championship.

Their rounds of 63-66-63-192 gave them a one-shot margin over Glen Stuart of Battle Creek and Greg Alksnis of Grand Rapids who scored 61-66-66 at Burr Oak Golf Club.

"Timo asked me to play in the tournament two weeks ago, and I said 'why?'" commented Brafford. "He said 'Because we will win it.'"

"Timo made a mile of putts out there," Brafford said. Kipelainen, 27, lacks a classic swing but, as the 44-year-old Brafford testifies, is known as a brilliant putter. His expertise brought him the $600 first prize. Amateur Brafford settled for $25 in merchandise.

They also took the Walter Hagen Trophy for a year. John Molenda and Richard Fynke of West Bloomfield were third with 196. Bob Meyer of Niles and Walter Christiansen of Ypsilanti shared fourth at 197 with Jim Applegate and Jeff Reaume of Ypsilanti. Meyer and Christiansen earned their high finish on a closing 61 after two 66s. Applegate and Reaume closed with a 62 after rounds of 67 and 68.

Four pairs were tied at 196, including Don White, veteran Adrian pro, and amateur Bruce Sapir.

Sox Play Stars

The Chicago White Sox will play the American Association All-Stars in Denver's Mile High Stadium on July 31.

Fairplain Topples Leaders

Paw Paw fell from the ranks of the unbeaten Tuesday night as Fairplain came up with a 2-1 victory in Southwest Connie Mack action.

Fairplain, now 3-2, scored both its runs in the third. Dave Crume got to first on an error, was sacrificed to second and came home when Gary Bartalone was safe at first on an error. Bubba Pate then drove in Bartalone with a single.

Paw Paw notched its only run in the fourth when Randy Rhodes doubled and was driven home by a Zane Silas single.

Bart Boddie got the win as he struck out eight Paw Paw hitters. Joe Gladysz got the loss even though he gave up only two hits. Paw Paw is now 3-1.

In the only other game played Tuesday night, North Lincoln crushed Bangor 12-4.

McCarver Signs With Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies have signed veteran catcher Tim McCarver, 33, as a free agent. McCarver was released last week by the Boston Red Sox.

To make room for McCarver, the Phils sent outfielder Mike Rigodon to their Toledo farm club.

McCarver broke into the majors in St. Louis in 1960 and came to Philadelphia after the 1969 season in a seven-player deal involving Dick Allen. He went to Montreal in June 1972, later rejoined the Cardinals and ended up with Boston last September. He has a lifetime average of .271.

Art Somers of Warren was second in his 1974 Camaro to victory Tuesday on a one-quarter mile dirt track in the fifth race of the 10-event Circuit of Champions.

Roberts took home $500 for his triumph.

The sixth race is set next Tuesday at Lansing's Spartan Speedway.

The races are run in association with Carling breweries.

Tennessee Site For '76 Meeting

NASHVILLE (AP) — The National Federation of State High School Associations will hold its 1976 meeting in Nashville, according to association officials.

It will be the first time the convention has been held in Tennessee since 1959, when it was held in Chattanooga. About 1,400 persons are expected to attend the meeting which will run July 2-6.

Meanwhile, this year's meeting will get under way Monday in San Diego with Billy M. Jones, president of Memphis State University, scheduled to deliver the keynote address.

Roberts Takes Circuit Race

WHITEMORE, Mich. (AP) — Jim Roberts of Coleman drove his 1974 Camaro to victory Tuesday on a one-quarter mile dirt track in the fifth race of the 10-event Circuit of Champions.

Roberts took home $500 for his triumph.

The sixth race is set next Tuesday at Lansing's Spartan Speedway.

The races are run in association with Carling breweries.

SAMMY'S WIFE: A screaming anniversary.

Mixed-Marriage Theme On ABC

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — On Friday, July 4, ABC is airing a series pilot based on "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," the 1967 movie which starred Sidney Poitier in a story of interracial romance.

Bill Overton, who has the Poitier role, is pleased that he got the job. But he says he's ticked off at ABC for rescheduling the show from May 28 to the night of July 4.

TODAY In History

By Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, July 2, the 183rd day of 1975. There are 182 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1881, President James Garfield was shot by a disappointed Chicago office seeker, Charles Guiteau, at the Washington railroad station. Garfield died September 19.
On this date:
In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed the Morrill Act, giving the states millions of acres of land to establish land-grant colleges.
In 1898, the Sherman Anti-trust Act was passed by Congress.
In 1928, the U.S. Army Air Corps was created.
In 1937, Amelia Earhart put down was last heard from on a flight over the Pacific.
In 1955, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson suffered a heart attack.
In 1961, writer Ernest Hemingway committed suicide at his home in Ketchikan, Idaho.
Ten years ago, President Lyndon Johnson's younger daughter, Luci Baines, converted to the Roman Catholic Church on her 18th birthday.

Howard Is 'The Mouth' To Fellow Sportscasters

Q: Is Howard Cosell as brainy as he is reputed to be? What do other sportscasters think of him and do you know if he wears a wig or not? — M.B., Brooklyn, N.Y.

A: Yes, he's brainy and he has a photographic memory. His colleagues do not all adore him and the nickname they have for Howard behind his back is "The Mouth." But he is respected for his energy and his salary. And he does wear a somewhat improbable hairpiece.

Q: Are Liza Minnelli and Bart Reynolds really an item down in Mexico, where they are making a movie together? — J.E., Bensenville, N.J.

A: No. Just pals.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY: That's what 100 close friends came to wish 49-year-old Sammy Davis Jr. and his wife Althea, 29. But Althea, who locked herself in the ladies room after a screaming match with Sammy and the party in Phoenix, Ariz., was not a big hit even after she was coaxed out an hour later.

Q: Is Ava Gardner as hot-tempered as ever or has old age calmed her down? — K.T., Bloomington, Va.

A: What old age? Teetotaler Ava has never looked better and is as full of fight as always. While in Moscow on that infamous "Bluebird" film location that was marked by frequent conflict, Ava took the side of the cast and crew in a battle with management and, after a confrontation, won the day for the hired hands.

Q: What does Elton John do with all his money? — T.Q., Larado, Tex.

A: For one thing he buys houses. He recently spent over a million bucks for a Hollywood manor once owned by David O. Selznick. This is in addition to other homes he owns in England and France. And you think your electric bills are high?

Q: The Burtons need to travel with lots of luggage. But now they have split and reformed.

Any new luggage champs? — E.W., Philadelphia, Pa.

A: Yes, the new ones are Charles and Jill Bronson. For a small trip they tote about 66 pieces of baggage and if they are taking the family, a slew of motorcycles goes along. This is ironic in view of the title of Bronson's next film, a Depres-

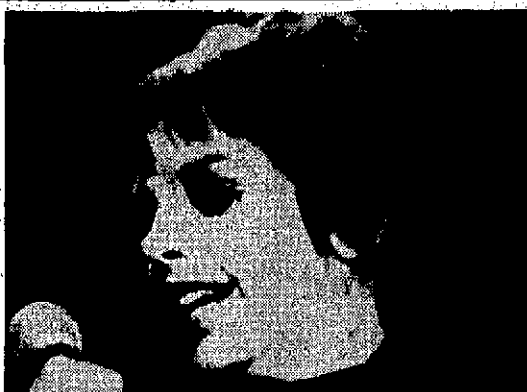

COSELL: 'The Mouth' is brainy.

The Answer On Loaning To Friends

"True of False: If you loan money to a person who is habitually tense and anxious, you seldom need to be concerned about his paying you back as promised."
Money — It can ruin even the best of friendships. What do you do if a good friend asks for a loan? If you say, "No," are you then considered less a friend? To find out the best way to handle this difficult, often embarrassing dilemma, read this week's "People Quiz."

Senate Panel Favors Campus Taverns

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Beer and wine could be served by the glass at all Michigan colleges and universities under a bill approved Tuesday by the Senate Commerce Committee.

Under the measure, reported to the full Senate, each college would be eligible for one license at each campus to sell beer and wine for consumption on the premises. The bill would apply to both community colleges and universities, both public and private.

The University of Michigan, for example, could sell beer and wine at one place on its main campus in Ann Arbor, another on its north campus, and at its Dearborn and Flint branches. State law now prohibits the sale of liquor at schools.

A bar already on the U-M Ann Arbor campus has a private club license, meaning alcoholic beverages can be sold only to club members and guests and at no profit, a Liquor Control Commission official said. The license is issued to the University Club.

The sale of hard liquor would continue to be barred.

Under an amendment sponsored by Sen. Patrick McCollough, D-Deerborn, the profits from the sale of beer and wine would have to be used for scholarships or low-interest loans for students.

McCollough and Sens. Daniel Cooper, D-Oak Park, and Donald Bishop, R-Rochester, voted to report the bill, while Sen. Robert Young, R-Saginaw, voted against it. But Bishop said he might oppose it on the floor, arguing it permitted colleges to compete with private businesses.

Cooper, chairman of the Commerce Committee, said that college officials expressed support of the bill at public hearings, and indicated it would be put to wide use.

The committee eliminated a provision of the bill which would have permitted the retail sale of alcohol within 500 feet of any school building — now prohibited under law.

Under state law, the local governing body and law enforcement agency would have to approve all applications to sell beer and wine, unless specifically not required. The Liquor Control Commission has the authority to grant the licenses.

The Department of Commerce said the revenue generated for the state by the licensing of colleges and universities "would be minimal."

Lawton To Seek Bids For Street Improvements

LAWTON — Lawton village council last night authorized its engineering firm to advertise for bids to repair three village streets.

The bids are to be opened at the next council meeting set for July 15.

Streets involved were Nursery road from White Oak street north 500 feet; Nursery street from Orchard to Bitley streets; and Orchard street to M-40.

Costs for the resurfacing will be paid from the state highway fund and the village's street improvement funds, but no cost estimate was made.

In a related item, the council instructed its engineering firm, Southwest Engineering company and Kraft Engineering company, both of Kalamazoo, to begin initial steps for improving the railroad crossings at Walker and Nursery streets for next year.

In other areas, President James (Hal) Moon instructed the council's fire committee to meet with officials from Antwerp township, the Lawton school board and the fire department concerning fire protection for the high school.

A motion by council member Burl Unrath to dismiss a full-time temporary employee of the public works department failed for lack of support. Unrath contended that the employee, Mel Leonard, was a liability to the village because of an alleged back condition. Leonard's job with the village ends Sept. 1.

The council accepted the high bid of $258, from Nester Stephany of Lawton for a village lawn tractor and sent a note of appreciation to the Gravel Lake property association for its donation of a resuscitator to the fire department.

The council granted permission to the Lawton American legion post to hold a chicken barbecue at noon on July 4 and for the St. Paul's United Methodist church youth group to hold a car wash on July 5 beginning at 9 a.m.

HOSPITALIZED: State Sen. John McCauley, 51, was in serious condition after possible heart attack Tuesday. The Grosse Ile democrat reportedly admitted himself to a Lansing hospital about 3 p.m. Monday. Doctors said his condition is stable. He was first elected to the State senate in 1964. (AP Wirephoto)

SMC Trustees Accept Grants Worth $4,100

DOWAGIAC — Grants amounting to $4,100 were accepted by the Southwestern Michigan college trustee board last night.

The grants included a $4,000 unrestricted grant from the Carmichael foundation of South Bend and a $100 grant from the Dowagiac Rotary club.

No specific uses for the money were outlined.

In other areas, the board referred to the administration for study bids on two pieces of scientific equipment. The bids covered an atomic absorption spectrometer and an infrared spectrometer. Apparent low bidder on the atomic spectrometer was the Fisher Scientific company, Chicago, at $5,000. The apparent low bidder on the infrared spectrometer was the Phillips Electronic Instruments company, Mt. Vernon, N.Y., at $4,370.

Marta Kay Dodd, the college's recently named public information officer, was named to the state's bicentennial commission to represent the college.

The board approved changes in administrative sick leave policies, raising the maximum accumulation from 60 days to up to 70 days in the 1975-76 school year and 80 days in the following year. Administrators are granted 10 days sick leave for each year of employment.

Dowagiac Commercial Press was awarded a contract to print 10,000 copies of the college's admissions brochures on its low bid of $2,007.

Library shelving was ordered purchased from the Bertrand agency, Niles, on the firm's low bid of $3,959.

Reappointed to the college's foundation board were Stanley Gilbert, South Bend; Carroll Jones, Marcellus; and Louis Loesser, Decatur.

Fire Levels Barn Near Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE — Fire yesterday destroyed a 60 by 30 foot barn containing several farm implements at the Virginia Schilling farm, 8801 East Eureka road, Eau Claire, according to Robert Wohler, Eau Claire police chief.

Volunteer firemen from the Pipestone, Berrien townships, Eau Claire village department were assisted by the Indian Lake fire department. A total of six trucks answered the 11:50 a.m. alarm. The fire was extinguished about 12:15 p.m., Wohler said.

No one was injured in the blaze and Mrs. Schilling had no estimate of the damage, although she said the barn was insured.

Free Children Show July 11 In Paw Paw

PAW PAW — The Paw Paw Jaycee auxiliary and Paw Paw school district's community schools department are jointly sponsoring a children's show to be staged at 7 p.m., July 11, in the high school parking lot, according to Joan Burnham, president of the auxiliary.

The 55-minute-long show will be presented by the Magic Globe Players children's theater, a North Dakota-based troupe made up of teachers and college students.

The show is free of charge and will be held in the gym in event of rain, she said.

Music, puppets, pantomime and creative dramatics are used to portray a Dakota territory history of folklore, myths and legends, Mrs. Burnham said.

She said the show is part of a bicentennial celebration swing by the troupe through the north central states.

The show is financed partly by a grant from the North Dakota Council on Arts and Humanities, Mrs. Burnham said.

Boy Dies In Mishap

PLAINWELL — A 16-year-old Lake Dorsey boy died early this morning at Borgess hospital, Kalamazoo, from injuries sustained in a freak boating accident yesterday afternoon on Lake Dorsey, according to Allegan county sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said Otis Gray died at 1:30 a.m. from head injuries sustained in the 3:11 p.m. mishap.

Deputies said the boy was on a rubber raft being pulled by an outboard motor boat being driven by a friend when the raft swung out from the boat's wake, striking another boat moored near the shore. Deputies said Gray received compound skull fractures in the accident. Lake Dorsey is located several miles east of here in Allegan county's Gun Plain township.

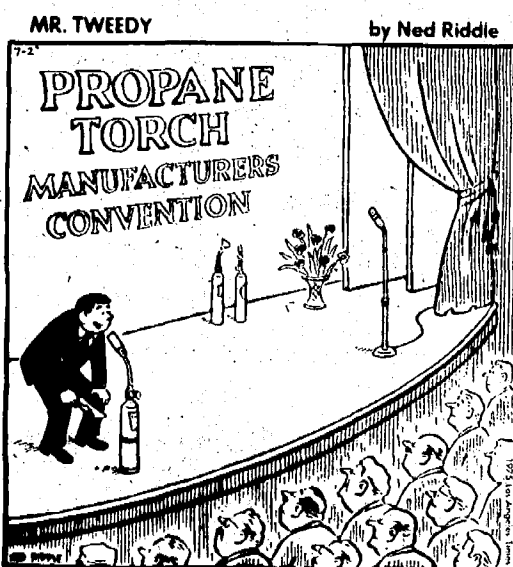

Deputies identified the driver of the boat pulling Gray as Drew Rickett, 17, also of Lake Dorsey. The Gray boy was being pulled by a 16 foot aluminum boat with a 40 horse-power outboard motor.

SPECIAL ATTENTION LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State Police traffic patrols will give special attention to high-risk road areas in an effort to minimize accidents during the Fourth of July holiday.

Pharmacy Class Working With Radioactivity

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Twenty students in a new pharmacy class under William Christopherson Jr., at the University of the Pacific are working with radioactive drugs which are used more for treatment than diagnosis.

"The only difference between radio pharmacy and conventional pharmacy is that the drugs we are dealing with are radioactive," says Christopherson, an assistant professor of clinical pharmacy, "but this is certainly a significant difference."

This now brings our total for two guys for four days to $26 in camping fees alone.

After a little thought, we decided not to purchase a permit for the bike and instead chain and lock it to a tree on our site to insure it would not be stolen.

The first night of our stay as we were getting ready for bed, we heard a knock on the door and it was our friendly lumbering ranger friend to tell us we would be evicted if we didn't either buy a permit or load the bike back onto the truck.

Since it was late, we explained it would be a bother to load it back onto our truck. This didn't seem to have any effect on his determination to sell us a $5 pass.

We finally loaded the bike up and went to bed.

We feel it's your duty to inform the public on how these park rangers go out of their way to make the campers stay a pleasant and enjoyable one.

'LIBERALS' GET SOME LUMPS

Editor, Imagine a meteorologist using carefully collected data to give warning of an approaching typhoon, with figures on direction of storm center movement, expected wind velocity, and so forth. Then imagine a reporter saying to the public, "The meteorologist is hoping a typhoon hits pretty soon. He'll be happy to see the widespread destruction it brings." This would be an appalling case of irresponsibility.

Last Sunday Friedrich von Hayek gave some information about economic actions on "Meet the Press." His brief remarks were very clear, well put together, and loaded with important observations. Viewers were given a glimpse of the framework for a "typhoon proof" structure to go through the coming economic storm, as it were. Yet, on Monday, there came Eric Severid telling us that economist Friedrich von Hayek would be happy to see unemployment go up to 14 percent and stay there for a long time.

Anyone who heard what Hayek actually said must be appalled by that comment, but such blatant misinformation does have its bright side; it indicates the "Liberal" commentators are beginning to swing wild in desperation. They probably sense their facade of credibility can't be held up much longer. One has an uneasy feeling, though, that when the cover is removed from the "Liberals" posing as thinkers, there will be revealed nothing more than shallow-minded delinquents smirking about how long they got away with putting something over on the public.

For over 40 years the great students of human action, such as Friedrich von Hayek, Ludwig von Mises, and their students, such as Percy Greaves, have had a difficult time being heard. Economic events in the making will probably show the price we have to pay for not listening.

Bruce W. Zebell, 34, of 1262 South 13th street, Niles, charged with breaking and entering Fluor-Jager's Department store, Three Oaks, March 6. He was jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Petty larceny — Theodore C. Mielke, 20, of Hesperia, and Charles Cobb, 23, of 363 Washington, Benton Harbor, fine and costs of $121 each; Brenda Lee Williams, 17, of Eau Claire, $121 or 30 days in jail.

Driving while intoxicated — Darwin H. Peterson, 23, of South Bend, $151 or 30 days in jail; Paul H. Schultz, 63, of 1010 1/2 Pipestone, Benton Harbor, 90 days in jail and two years probation for second offense and, for driving while license suspended, 30 days in jail.

Impaired driving — James W. Woods, 60, of 2181 Butler, Benton township, and Peter W. Kennedy, 19, of Evergreen Park, Ill., $101 each; Robert J. Cashier, 46, of 311 Fulton, Buchanan, $310 for second offense.

Others sentenced were: Irvin E. Miller, 46, of Homewood, Ill., $31 for disorderly person, indecent conduct, June 27 in Lake township. James Marmon, 36, of 414 4th avenue, Allegan, $130 for possession of an unregistered pistol June 20 in Soda township.

Coloma Picnic Planned For Elementary Pupils

COLOMA — Another picnic for Coloma elementary students in grades first through fourth will be held at Coloma Lions park, Thursday, July 10, according to Mrs. Erwin (Margaret) Schmidt, a member of the Coloma Parent Advisory committee, picnic sponsor. The picnic will be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., with students to bring their own sack lunch. A number of games and activities have been slated.

Illinois Doctor Bound Over To Van Buren Trial Court

By TOM RENNER

South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — Dr. Vernon Wallace, 45, an Illinois anesthesiologist with a summer home in Covert township, was bound over to Van Buren circuit court yesterday on a charge of assault less than murder following a preliminary examination in Seventh district court here.

Dr. Wallace was arrested June 16 for the alleged knife assault of Michael Shine of Chicago at Wallace's summer home in Palisades park.

The victim was reported to have been stabbed in the face and hands during an argument. Dr. Wallace, an anesthesiologist at Holy Family hospital in Des Plaines, Ill., remains free on $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

In other cases, Stanton Lloyd Sperry, 22, of Baroda, was bound over to circuit court after a preliminary examination on a charge of breaking and entering. Sperry was arrested by state police from the South Haven post in connection with a Jan. 3 burglary of a house trailer in Bangor township. He remains free on $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

Clyde Strong, 28, 14 Cable street, South Haven, was bound over to circuit court on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He is alleged to have threatened a South Haven man, Anthony Edwards, with a gun on May 7 in South Haven township. Bond of $2,000 was continued.

Gregory Williams, 20, of South Haven demanded a preliminary examination when arraigned on a charge of assault less than murder. He was arrested by state police from the South Haven post in connection with a June 19 incident in which an off-duty trooper, James Symonds, was allegedly assaulted by a man with a stick. Williams pleaded guilty to a charge of throwing a missile at an auto and was fined $154.

Vernon Burnette, 26, route 5, South Haven, pleaded no contest and was placed on probation one year on a charge of uttering and publishing. Burnette was arrested by state police from a complaint from his wife, Fern, who contended that her social services check was cashed without her permission.

Jerry Hughes, 38, of Bangor, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault less than murder. He was arrested June 7 by Bangor police in connection with an incident in which a man was said to have been struck by a baseball bat during an argument.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

Charges of possessing heroin against Alfred Pratt, 35, and Jerome Pratt, 26, both of Detroit, were dismissed. The brothers were arrested by South Haven police after officers found a substance in a car.

Bill Would Split Hit-Run Violations

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Hit-and-run violations would be divided into two categories with different penalties under a bill approved by the Senate on Tuesday.

On a vote of 26-4, the Senate sent to the governor a bill which would make a hit-run violation involving a serious or fatal injury a felony punishable by up to two years in prison and a fine of $2,000.

For a hit-run violation which is not serious or fatal, the penalty would be a misdemeanor punishable by up to a year in prison and a fine of $1,000.

The law now contains an unusual alternative sentence of imprisonment from 30 days to a year in the county jail or one to five years in prison, or a fine of from $100 to $5,000 — or by both a fine and imprisonment. The law does not characterize a hit-and-run offense as either felony or misdemeanor.

In other action, the Senate voted 29-0 and sent to the governor a bill which establishes a bureau of minority enterprise within the Department of Commerce.

Former Newsman Wins Scholarship

A former employee of this newspaper has won a $5,400 scholarship from the University of Notre Dame.

James Canonic, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Canonic, South Haven, will begin studies this fall for a master's degree in sociology. His award consists of a waiver of tuition fees, and a special $2,600 stipend for teaching and research activities at the university. The award was based upon his competitive grade merit and his graduate record examination score.

Canonic is a 1972 honors graduate of the University of Michigan, majoring in pre-law and journalism. Since graduation, he worked in the advertising department of this newspaper, and later was a reporter for a television station in Florida. He is working in the Washington, D.C. area this summer.

One Hurt, Two Arrested In BH Shooting Episode

Two Benton Harbor men were arrested by city police and charged in connection with a shooting that hospitalized a Benton township man last night.

Booked at the Berrien jail on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder were Chester D. Dossett, 22, and Harold C. Holton, 22, both of 1232 Highland avenue.

The shooting victim was identified as Andrew Butler, 24, of 519 Britain avenue. He was released from Mercy hospital this morning after being treated last night for a gunshot wound to his head.

According to Det. David Stovall, he and Det. Robert Massengale were on their way to investigate an unrelated complaint on Oden street when they spotted Butler running on Oden bleeding from the head. While waiting for an ambulance, Butler told them he had been shot by a man who pulled alongside a car he was riding in near Oden and Highland avenue and fired three times. The man driving the car Butler was riding in was not injured.

Butler told detectives the shooting may have stemmed from a fight he helped break up last week.

Dossett was seriously injured nearly six years ago when he was shot at Benton Harbor High school in a hallway.

APPOINTED: Douglas Wilson has been appointed director of marketing for Warner Vineyards in Port Pate, according to company announcement. Wilson, Brooklyn, N.Y. native, was most recently with Wilding division of Bell & Howell in Chicago. His primary duties will be marketing of Warner's premium wines.

Mayor Accused Of Embezzling

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The three-term mayor of Berrien Springs has pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court to charges of embezzling $38,000 from the Emmet County State Bank.

Harmon Wilcox was charged with taking the money between November 1973 and February 1975 from the bank where he was vice president and cashier. Wilcox was released on his own recognizance. Bank officials said they discovered money was missing last March, about the time Wilcox was released from his job at the bank. The bank was reimbursed for the missing money by its insurance company.

A federal prosecutor said Wilcox's trial probably will be held this fall.

Gov. George Wallace occupies a very curious position in American politics. He has no future in the Democratic party, but if he runs an independent campaign, he may (as almost happened in 1968) hand the Democrats the White House. Some characters off on the right have what they consider a dreamboat ticket — Ronald Reagan and Wallace running on a conservative third line. I don't know what they are smoking in their pipes. All I can say is I devoutly hope for this development. The Democratic candidate in 1976 wouldn't even have to campaign.

In other words, while Wallace can't go anywhere, he can make life difficult for everybody else. Unquestionably he will turn up at the Democratic nominating convention with a substantial bloc of votes, for his nomination is inconceivable. Nor, for reasons we will come to shortly, would any Democrat in his right mind take him aboard as a vice presidential partner. However, he will be situated so as to make a brokered convention almost inevitable.

Wallace's specialty is tearing up Democratic primaries (at last count there will be —ugh —33 next year) but what few analysts appreciate is that his power in primaries arises from essentially non-political factors. A vote for Wallace, in, say, Michigan is a free way to vent one's aggressions against the world. The guy who is sore about busing, unemployment taxes, or perhaps just annoyed with his wife pulls the Wallace vote symbolically "beating the system" in the tall.

The Presidential election, on the other hand, is for real and assuming the Democratic left doesn't launch another kamikaze attack as in 1972 — the same Michigan vote will "come home." Thus within the Democratic party George Wallace is more of a public nuisance than a serious political figure.

Outside of the Democratic party, however, he is a genuine threat — to the Republicans. There was a lot of chatter about his appeal to "populist" sentiment among the Democrats, but in 1968 it was estimated that he took 4 Republican votes for each Democratic one.

I have never been able to discern much "radical" "populist" in contemporary Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi, the states he carried in 1968. In contrast, my Texas friends tell me that he presented that state to Hubert Humphrey on a platter, and almost gave him California. Thus an independent Wallace candidacy must be a nightmare for President Ford's political strategists.

Yet, even here there is some consolation for the Harris Poll (6-18-75) which had a Wallace-Ford contest up front with Ford getting 60 per cent to Wallace's 31. More significant was a second finding that got little publicity, although its implications were fascinating. We have heard a good deal of comment about the "new Wallace" who has given up his bad old racist ways. Well, Wallace may have thought he was on the road to Damascus, but Harris' findings indicate he is en route to the Dead Sea. A year ago only 27 per cent of those polled considered Wallace "an extremist." Now the percentage has risen to 83!

Perhaps the electorate is merely catching up with the "old Wallace" who was once a politician gets that tag, he is in real trouble.

This should be some consolation to Mr. Ford because it indicates that the Wallace threat in 1976 is far less firmly based than it was in 1968. In short, there is no need for the Republicans to write off the five Wallace states — a strong, conservative campaign might keep them with the GOP.

Town Hall Rejected

CHEYOVAN, Mich. (AP) — Residents of Cheyovgan County's Tuscarora Township have decided by a 2-1 margin, they don't want to spend $200,000 for a new town hall. The vote was 241 to 122 against the plan.

PLANE ARMED INDUSTRY FRASILIA (AP) — The Brazilian Congress has approved the creation of a national arms industry that the government hopes will change Latin America's most heavily armed nation from an importer to an exporter of weapons.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Uneasy Market Declines

NEW YORK (AP) — Concern over possible increases in key interest rates pushed stock prices lower today.

The Dow Jones industrial average dropped nearly a point after the opening bell, and issues falling in price moderately outnumbered gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Money market observers were saying that Citibank's floating formula currently calls for a rise in their prime lending rate to 7 per cent from the present 6 1/2 per cent. The bank is due to announce its decision on whether to boost the widely watched rate it charges on loans to best commercial borrowers on Thursday, just before the market closes for the July 4th holiday.

The stock market is often sensitive to movements in interest rates, which determine how easily businesses can raise cash for new projects and day-to-day expenses.

In cheerier news, the Commerce Department reported that the nation's manufacturers anticipate a 2.9 per cent rise in inventories and a sales increase of 5.6 per cent in the third quarter—both signs of a coming economic recovery.

Today's prices included Howard Johnson, off 1/4 to 12%, McDermott off 1/2 to 10%, and Tappan Co. up 1/2 to 7%.

In Tuesday's session, the Dow Jones industrial average declined 1.37 to 877.42, pausing for some light profit taking after reaching a 15-month high the day before.

Losses on the New York Stock Exchange outnumbered gainers by a narrow margin, and the Big Board's composite stock index fell 0.17 to 88.68.

Volume came to 20,390,000 shares.

At the American Exchange, the market value index declined 0.22 to 83.24.

Real Estate Soliciting Curb Eyed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Real estate brokers' bombardment of property owners with heavy mail and telephone solicitations would be outlawed under a Detroit city ordinance suggested by state Rep. Dennis Hertel.

Calling the solicitation "a subtle form of block-busting," the Detroit Democrat said Monday he wants to forbid realtors from soliciting residential accounts.

Many homeowners become anxious about their neighborhood's fate after receiving repeated offers from real estate firms, Hertel said. People who otherwise would not consider leaving their homes sell and move, he said.

Hertel said he is studying a possible state bill, but since the problem only affects changing neighborhoods, he has requested Detroit to consider a city ordinance prohibiting solicitation in person, by phone and through the mail.

Electric Co-Op Gets Rate Hike

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Ontonagon County Rural Electrification Association has been granted a rate hike of nearly $130,000, boosting revenues by 2.5 per cent.

The state Public Service Commission says the increase is needed because of increased wholesale purchased power costs, labor costs, interest expenses and operating costs.

Also, increases in fuel costs used to produce power the company buys can now be passed on to its users, the commission said.

U.S. Colonel Missing

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — An American colonel attached to the U.S. Military Aid Mission here has been missing since June 28th, U.S. officials said today.

Col. Ernest R. Morgan of Petersburg, Va., was last seen in Beirut walking out of his hotel for a meal, the officials said.

MAY DULL HOLIDAY

Michigan Gas Prices Reach Record High

DETROIT (AP) — Seven oil companies lifted gasoline prices by as much as 4.7 cents per gallon Tuesday.

The action brings gasoline prices to record highs just as motorists prepare to fill their tanks for the July 4 holiday trips.

Michigan drivers may pay up to 64.9 cents for a gallon of major brand regular gasoline, according to a Michigan Auto Club survey.

The club found regular gas still available at some places for as little as 52.9 cents a gallon.

"The companies know the public is going to motor and they are going to grab every dime they can possibly get," charged Thomas Anderson, executive director of the Pennsylvania Service Stations Dealers Association.

At individual stations, the new prices are either already in effect or soon will be, when stations get new supplies of fuel.

Companies which raised their prices Tuesday are: Total Leonard (4.7 cents); Shell, Standard of Indiana, Phillips and Clark (3 cents); Arco (2 cents); and Texaco (1.4 cents).

Ben Moss, pricing chief for Standard of Indiana (Amoco) in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, said the firm also is raising heating fuel prices by a penny a gallon. But military jet fuel prices were cut 1.6 cents a gallon.

The club said gas would be in "abundant supply" over the holiday weekend — even if it does cost more money.

"All units were closed by June 28, 1975, and disposal of assets is currently under way," a spokesman said.

"Since the fast-food concept is relatively new to Australian consumers, we have proceeded cautiously from the very beginning. Our continuing evaluation of this business indicates that sales and profit potentials are not sufficient to justify continued investment."

PRODUCTION PLANS
DETROIT (AP) — U.S. auto-makers plan to build about 1.04 million cars in the third quarter of this year, down only 1 per cent from the depressed year-ago levels.

Prices may go up again — by another four cents a gallon — by Labor Day, according to the Federal Energy Administration's survey of nine major oil companies.

Some service station owners are fuming about the price hikes.

"The companies know the public is going to motor and they are going to grab every dime they can possibly get," charged Thomas Anderson, executive director of the Pennsylvania Service Stations Dealers Association.

At individual stations, the new prices are either already in effect or soon will be, when stations get new supplies of fuel.

Companies which raised their prices Tuesday are: Total Leonard (4.7 cents); Shell, Standard of Indiana, Phillips and Clark (3 cents); Arco (2 cents); and Texaco (1.4 cents).

Ben Moss, pricing chief for Standard of Indiana (Amoco) in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, said the firm also is raising heating fuel prices by a penny a gallon. But military jet fuel prices were cut 1.6 cents a gallon.

The club said gas would be in "abundant supply" over the holiday weekend — even if it does cost more money.

"All units were closed by June 28, 1975, and disposal of assets is currently under way," a spokesman said.

"Since the fast-food concept is relatively new to Australian consumers, we have proceeded cautiously from the very beginning. Our continuing evaluation of this business indicates that sales and profit potentials are not sufficient to justify continued investment."

THESE ARE THE MARKETS AS OF THIS MORNING — PRIOR TO THE OPENING OF THE CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Staying Open
Over Holiday

The market will be open each day this weekend in spite of the July Fourth holiday, says Market Manager Al Braudo. Usually the market is open on holidays but closed the day before a holiday. Not so this year.

The market will operate from 9 a.m. to about 1 p.m. on July 3 and July 5. It will be open for a full day's trading on July 4 and, of course, on Sunday July 6.

Prices for the week ending July 5:

SOY BEANS — 8-qt. flat, Montmorency, $4. Receipts: 113.

CUCUMBERS 1/2 Bu., waxed, US 1, $2.25 to $2.50; US 2 and large, $5. Receipts: 143.

U.S. Sale Helping To Curb Gold Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government has demonstrated an interest that it will take steps to hold down the price of gold.

The Treasury Department said Tuesday the price it accepted for gold at its latest gold auction Monday was $165.05 an ounce.

Although foreign firms bought most of the 499,500 ounces of gold, officials said they expected most of the gold would be used in the U.S. market rather than be shipped overseas.

Officials indicated they were pleased that the price they accepted was near what they considered to be the market price of gold, about $167 an ounce.

The government sold gold in January at an average of $165.65 an ounce, which it obviously feels is about the right price.

Gold was selling on world markets late last year for more than $190 an ounce, but by showing its willingness to sell gold from its official stockpiles, the U.S. government has succeeded in keeping current world prices well below that level.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said Tuesday the government will sell additional gold as conditions warrant.

By keeping the price of gold from soaring to 1974 levels, or higher, the government hopes to discourage speculation in gold buying by Americans, who gained the right last Dec. 31 to own gold for the first time in 41 years.

It also reinforces official U.S. government policy to reduce the role of gold in the international monetary system. Pressures to restore gold to a prominent place in the system tend to grow along with price.

Free Press Fire Cuts Distribution

DETROIT (AP) — Several areas of the state were without their usual morning paper today due to a fire in the press-room at the Detroit Free Press.

The fire occurred just as the first edition, which normally goes to areas of the state outside Detroit, began rolling off the presses at about 9 p.m.

Production manager William Langman said distribution would be curtailed especially in the far northern and western parts of the state. The only edition published was the final edition, which was planned for distribution outside its normal Metropolitan Detroit area.

Firemen said the blaze, which resulted in injuries to two firefighters, was caused by a short circuit in one of seven presses. Fire and water caused an undetermined amount of damage to the presses, but normal distribution would resume Thursday, Langman said.

Langman said he planned a press run of about 400,000 copies, two-thirds the normal run.

Girl's Elbow Broken When Hit By Car

A nine-year-old Benton Harbor girl was treated for a broken elbow at Mercy hospital Tuesday after she was hit by a car backing out of a driveway at 546 Columbus avenue.

City police said Monica Franklin, 789 Broadway, was riding her bike in the driveway when the car, driven by Gustav Depolder, 73, of 546 Columbus, hit her. No tickets were issued, according to police.

City police also investigated an accident at the intersection of Eighth and Britain avenues Tuesday which injured one of the drivers, Lillie E. King, 59, box 367, M-62, Eau Claire. She was treated at Mercy hospital.

Police identified the other driver as Kathy B. Pecora, 26, of Sunrise, Fla. She was not injured. Neither driver was ticketed in the 11:40 a.m. mishap.

Morton avenue, told police she was outside her apartment when a man, wearing a black nylon stocking over his face, pushed her into the apartment and demanded money. When she told him she had none, he took her to the kitchen and held a butcher knife to her throat, she said, and she showed him a piggy bank.

She told police he opened the bank, but left without taking anything. Police reports did not indicate whether there was any money in the bank.

Thieves broke into storage buildings at two Benton Harbor parks Tuesday, according to city police.

An undetermined amount of candy was taken from roadway park, Broadway and Weld street, apparently by a large group of youths who police said scattered as they arrived.

Baseball equipment valued at about $35 was reported stolen at John C. Sams park; Eleventh street and Empire avenue.

Also reported stolen to city police were a $2,000 gas furnace and a $200 water heater, taken from a vacant house at 363 Morton avenue, owned by William Russell, of Coloma.

Four bicycles were stolen in two separate incidents reported to St. Joseph police Tuesday.

Two bikes valued at about $180 were taken from a locked garage at the Willis Hall home; 2400 Niles avenue. Two others were reported stolen from an unlocked garage by Wilbur Wolske, 2715 Sunnydale drive. They were valued at about $250.

Picnic tables valued at about $150 were reported stolen from a roadside rest area on M-140 near Carindoy, Bainbridge township. State police of the Benton Harbor post said the tables are owned by the state department of highways and transportation.

Athlet who took an air conditioner from the porch of Berrien County Package Co., 1127 Pipestone road, didn't get much of a bargain. Owner Donald Lane told Benton township police the air conditioner didn't work and he had left it on the porch to await repairs.

State police of the Benton Harbor post arrested a Benton Harbor man Tuesday night on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and violation of the controlled substance act.

Booked at the Berrien jail was Jimmie E. Bradley, 33, of 765 Highway 26. Police confiscated a .38 caliber revolver and a small amount of suspected marijuana when he was arrested on Napier avenue at Johnson street in Benton township.

LARGE FAMILY?

Then you should investigate the home we have for sale in Hickory Creek Manor No. 7, St. Joseph Township, Lakeshore Schools. The home has four levels with 3 bedrooms and bath on one floor & 2 bedrooms & bath on another. The exterior is brick and aluminum, the age is four years; and the kitchen, family room, dining room and living room make this a 9 room home. Well built, in good condition, and you can avoid the heat with its central air conditioning. Priced in mid 40's.

OWNER TRANSFERRED

This custom built home, less than one year old, was built by one of the area's most creative builders. All of the features expected of finer quality homes are found in this low maintenance cedar and rustic aluminum exterior. The two acres of wooded dune have been left in their natural state to capture the character of the home. Included in the many features are 4 bedrooms, formal dining room, large family room, 2 1/2 baths. Call today to see this fine home offered at only $36,300.

SPLIT LEVEL

Only 2 years old with brick and aluminum exterior and located in residential area in Lincoln Township, Lakeshore Schools where city water is connected and there are no special assessments. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, family room and attractive kitchen with quality built cabinets, lunch counter and dining area. Priced at $43,900.

REMODELED

Older 2 story home in the city of St. Joseph with beautiful view of Lake Michigan. The present owners practically rebuilt and redecorated the interior in the short time they have owned it. Now they are leaving the area. 5 bedrooms, 2 baths, modern kitchen, formal dining room, large living room, basement and 2 car garage. Priced at $45,900.
